Urges All Powers to Renounce War

KELLOGG ASKS FRANCE TO AID IN PEACE PLAN

Seeks to Expand Briand Proposal.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—(Special.)—Secretary of State Kellogg today made public the text of a note to the French government suggesting that France and the United States join in an effort to obtain the adherence of all the principal powers to a declaration renouncing war as an instrument of national policy in favor of the peaceful settlement of international disputes.

The note, which is a counter-proposal to that of Prime Minister Briand for a Franco-American treaty forever outlawing war between the two governments, makes it clear to the French government that the United States could not consider acceptance of the Briand proposal if it were confined merely to the United States and France.

It was stated that the United States would not enter any treaty binding this government never to go to war under any circumstances.

To Arbitrate Disputes.

The announcement included the text of a note sent by Secretary Kellogg to the French government on Dec. 28, which contained the answer to the Briand proposal, and also the text of a proposed separate arbitration convention extending the scope of the 1916 convention which expires on Feb. 25.

While the draft of the Briand proposal to outlaw war was not covered actually in today's announcement, it was revealed that it proposed that "the two powers should solemnly declare in the name of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war, renounce it as an instrument of their national policy toward each other, and agree that a settlement of disputes arising between them, of whatever nature or origin they might be, shall never be sought by other party except through pacific means."

"I have given the most careful consideration to this proposal," states Secretary Kellogg in his reply, "and take the occasion warmly to reciprocate, on behalf of the American people, the lofty sentiments of friendship which inspired the French people to suggest the proposed treaty."

Impressive Example.

"It has occurred to me that the two governments, instead of contenting themselves with bilateral declaration of the nature suggested by Mr. Briand, might well peace by joining in an effort to obtain the adherence of all the principal powers of the world to a declaration renouncing war as an instrument of national policy."

"Such a declaration, if executed by the principal world powers, could not but be an impressive example to all the other nations of the world, and might conceivably lead such nations to subscribe in their turn to the same instrument, thus perfecting among all the powers of the world an arrangement heretofore suggested only as between France and the United States."

"The government of the United States is prepared, therefore, to concur with the government of France with a view to the conclusion of a treaty among the principal powers of the world, open to signature by all nations, condemning war and renouncing it as an instrument of national policy in favor of the peaceful settlement of international disputes."

Prepared to Cooperate.

"If the government of France is willing to join with the government of the United States in this endeavor and to enter with the United States and the other principal powers of the world into an appropriate multi-lateral treaty, I shall be happy to engage at once in conversations looking to the preparation of a draft treaty following the lines suggested by Mr. Briand and the submission by France and the United States jointly to the other nations of the world."

Secretary Kellogg, in touching on the proposed new arbitration treaty, which it was emphasized must be considered as separate from the Briand proposal, asserted this government's desire to join with the other governments of the world in condemning war.

NAME AVONDALE AFTER THOMPSON, ALDERMAN ASKS

Avondale avenue, the proposed new elevated boulevard to the northwest corner of the city, will be named Thompson highway in honor of Mayor William Hale Thompson if Ald. Frank R. Rings (39th) has his way.

Prompted by the success of the ordinance renaming Robey street Damen avenue, Ald. Rings proposed a similar ordinance before the council yesterday rechristening Avondale avenue.

Unlike the Damen avenue ordinance, however, the Rings measure did not slip through unobserved. A dozen aldermen demanded that it be sent to the streets and alleys committee after Ald. Rings had called "pass." It went to the committee.

Act to Speed Building Outer Drive Bridge

"The outer drive bridge is one of Chicago's most pressing traffic needs and we ought to get down to building it right away."

This statement, coming yesterday from Eugene R. Pike, new president of the Lincoln park board, seems to have the way for starting work on the bridge in the spring.

President Pike's endorsement of the project came at his first meeting of the board, held yesterday, at which a letter from James Simpson, chairman of the Chicago Plan commission, urging immediate action on the bridge, was read.

Hope to Start in Spring.

Mr. Simpson held out the hope that all preliminary plans could be completed within three months, and actual work started in the spring. Automobiles would be rolling over the new drive in the fall of 1929, it was stated.

Reviewing the progress made thus far in the matter, Mr. Simpson urged that the park boards immediately take official action approving the plan, so that bridge permits may be sought from federal and state authorities, and steps taken to obtain title to property needed.

The plan commission recommends building the bridge at a point directly south of the present end of Lake Shore drive, near the Furniture Mart.

Pike Names Committee

President Pike named a committee composed of Commissioners Robert H. Morse, John R. Thompson, and Alexander Fyffe to investigate the matter, and to report a recommendation at the next meeting on Jan. 10. Meanwhile, Mr. Pike said, he will confer with Edward J. Kelly, president of the south park board. Mr. Kelly has stated that he awaits only the approval of the Lincoln park board.

On the north approach to the proposed bridge the property owners in the block between Ohio street and Grand avenue have agreed to putting through the improvement, Mr. Simpson's letter stated.

Differ on Property Values

"The property between Grand avenue and the river, through which this street is to extend, is owned by the Chicago Dock and Canal company," he wrote. "Negotiations have been under way for some time with W. O. Green, representative of this property. The plans have been worked out to an agreement insofar as physical conditions are concerned, but there is a difference of $1,014,000 between

Two Changes in Personnel

Two changes in the personnel of the park board were made yesterday. William H. Beckman, former president of the Illinois Athletic club, was appointed attorney for the board to succeed Robert H. Farrell. George Woodruff, chairman of the board of the National Bank of the Republic, became treasurer of the board, succeeding Eugene N. Strom.

CRISIS ON WAGES AS SMALL HOLDS UP CAR BILLS

Calls Extra Session; Transit Left Out.

Gloomy prospects settled yesterday over Chicago's street car problem. The gloom came from two directions. First there came information that wage negotiations between the trainmen and the Chicago Surface Lines had come to an impasse which again made a strike possible.

Second there was the omission of the subject of transit from Gov. Len Small's call for a special session of the state assembly. This was considered proof that enabling legislation will not be obtained this year.

The governor limited the special session starting next Tuesday to his pet topic of primaries and some other matters of less general importance. So disappointed was the city council that its transit bills had been overlooked that it immediately passed resolutions pleading with the governor to call a second special for this one subject.

Wage Conference Today.

Just how serious the obstacle blocking progress with the wage dispute may be probably will develop at a meeting of the board of operations of the Chicago Surface Lines and spokesmen for the workers, in the offices of President Henry A. Blair at 10:30 this morning.

The companies will be represented by Mr. Blair, Leonard A. Busby, B. E. Sunny, Herman H. Hettler, Chauncey B. Borland, Frederick H. Rawson, Frank O. Wetmore, and Guy Richardson. The delegation for the unions will consist of William Quinlan, William Taber, Joseph Kehoe, L. D. Bland, and Ald. Oscar F. Nelson.

The wage arbitrators, General Manager Richardson of the Surface Lines, and Ald. Oscar Nelson, representing the union, are expected to report that they have not been able to make any progress in the negotiations between them.

What seems to be the trouble is that Mr. Richardson denies any authority to withdraw from the companies' position that the time has come for a reduction in wages of 5 cents an hour, while Ald. Nelson apparently cannot yield a cent the union demands for an increase of 15 cents an hour.

The Third Crisis on Pay.

The written agreement between the Surface Lines and the unions expired eighteen months ago, and for a year the old scale prevailed by mutual consent, but last June the men made their demand for an increase and a strike seemed so imminent that International President W. D. Mahon took a hand.

The two arbitrators named at that time did not agree upon a third. Strike clouds loomed again early in December. Mahon came to Chicago once more and this time Mr. Richardson and Ald. Nelson were selected to try to iron things out. It was provided that they should try to reach an agreement, but in the event of failure they were to select a third man as referee.

If there has been progress towards the selection of this third man it has not become public.

Transit Laws Affected.

These two phases of the transit problem appear to interlock in the attitude of some of the union members that the companies should not be given any alleviating legislation until their wage demands are granted. One theory current yesterday was that this was the reason the subject was not in the governor's call.

Its omission stirred the city council into a bit of heat over the passage of a resolution asking the governor to put the enabling bills drafted by the aldermen before the assembly at a later extraordinary session after his primary legislation program has been carried out.

Ald. Wiley W. Mills protested against the motion.

"A terminable permit as proposed in this legislation means a perpetual franchise for the companies," he said. "The so-called unification of the transit companies is just so much dust. We have known for fifteen months the transit question can be settled with a twenty year franchise."

He was answered by Ald. Joseph B. McDonough, chairman of the local transportation committee, and by Ald. Jacob M. Arvey.

Speed Up Special Session.

The first effect of the issuance of Gov. Small's proclamation among Chicago legislators was to send them scurrying around for means to make the session as short a one as possible. One practical reason is that the only compensation they receive for a special session is one payment of $50 special session.

Husband Fires at Rival During Movie in Loop

An audience in the Oriental theater last night was thrown into an uproar when John J. Mulhern, a wealthy real estate dealer with offices at 132 South Michigan avenue, invaded the mezzanine floor and fired a shot at a taxi chauffeur who accompanied Mrs. Mulhern. Mrs. Mulhern is the daughter of a wealthy former Mexico City banker and mother of three young children.

Mulhern told the police he was wearied of striving to break up his wife's infatuation for the chauffeur. He said he followed the couple to the theater with a private detective.

Finds Couple and Fires.

They located them on the mezzanine floor, he said, and he started to demand that Albert Solomon, 2016 Leoyne avenue, the chauffeur, accompany them outside.

But the sight of his wife sitting with Solomon's arm about her waist enraged him to the extent, he told police, that he lost all reason. Drawing a revolver he fired a shot which missed Solomon and entered the floor.

Instantly the theater crowd became excited and a panic was imminent. The stage show continued, however, and theater employees rapidly convinced the patrons that the disturbance was over.

Following the shot Solomon and Mulhern fought with their fists and Mrs. Mulhern took advantage of an opportunity to flee to the street. She hailed a cab and was speeding away when Policeman Michael Bennett stopped the driver for making a wrong turn. Learning what had happened, Bennett took her to the central station.

Says She Had Permission.

"My husband told me he was going to a fight at the Coliseum," she told police. "I asked him if I could go to a show and he agreeably replied that I could. As soon as he left I called up Mr. Solomon, whom I have known for a long time, and we went to the Oriental theater, not knowing that he was following us."

Policeman Samuel Margolis of the Chicago avenue station, who was off duty at the time, arrested Mulhern and Solomon. At the station Mulhern told a long story. He said the sight of Solomon fondling his wife made him attempt the killing. William Cohen, a bondsman, provided surety for the Mulherns' release.

"I've known of her affair for several months," Mulhern asserted, "but I've forgiven her time after time because I loved her."

"We have three children. Last June I found him in bed at our apartment, 6825 Paxton avenue. Last week they were together in a north side hotel. It was more than I could stand and I decided it must stop."

The Mulhern children were at home when the shooting in the theater took place. They are Mary, 9; John, 8, and Frank, aged 6.

Wife Comes from Mexico.

According to her husband they have been married ten years. Before her arrest, his wife was Marie MacManus de Oliveras, member of an old Mexican family and the daughter of Ignacio de Oliveras, former Mexican banker and said to be a friend of President Calles. She is 34.

It was recalled that Mulhern has been in trouble before. In May, 1926, Miss Joyce Lewis, 18, who said she was the daughter of a member of the medical staff at Annapolis Naval academy, caused his arrest on a charge of assault. She claimed that Mulhern attacked her twice at the St. Giles hotel, 3315 Sherman road, after she had met him on a train and agreed to become his stenographer. Mulhern declared that he was the victim of blackmail.

Slugs Man in Theater.

A similar case was reported from the Stratford theater, 715 West 53d street, where patrons were thrown into excitement when Stephen Evanchyn, 39, a machinist living at 2437 West Walton place, slugged John Lupanovich, 1215 Union avenue, in the face with a heavy bolt when he found Lupanovich and Mrs. Evanchyn sitting together at the show. Lupanovich's nose was smashed and his skull is believed to have been fractured.

JUMPS TO EVADE POLICE; IMPALED ON FENCE; DIES

Frank Janouek, 19 years old, 1248 Cullerton street, was fatally injured early this morning when he jumped from a porch at 1214 Cullerton street to escape the police and was impaled on a picket fence. He died a short time afterward.

Janouek was seen by Policemen Benjamin Smith, Richard Corcoran and William Newton of the Quinsport station, as he was carrying a storage battery along the street. Suspicions of the police were aroused and they sought to question the youth. He fled on their approach and ran up on the porch. They pursued and as they neared his retreat he jumped in an attempt to land in the next yard. He struck the fence and a picket penetrated his abdomen. It was found he had stolen the battery from the automobile of John Deverek, 1339 Cullerton street.

1,000 ORDERED TO NICARAGUA TO END REVOLT

5 Destroyers to Join U. S. Cruisers.

BULLETIN.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Five navy destroyers at the Boston navy yard received orders tonight to proceed at once to Hampton Roads en route to Nicaragua. The vessels were the J. K. Paulding, Overton, Putnam, MacFarland, and Sturtevant. The mine layer Shawmut was ordered to leave for Hampton Roads tomorrow morning. There it will take on board 33 officers and 400 men for Nicaragua.

BULLETIN.

PANAMA, Jan. 3.—(AP)—One hundred and thirty-six marines will leave the Canal Zone tomorrow aboard the cruiser Rochester for Corinto, Nicaragua. They will be under Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, commander of the special service squadron.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—(Special.)—United States marine forces in Nicaragua will be augmented by another 1,000 men immediately as the result of orders issued today by Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, following a protracted cabinet meeting at which the bloody fighting in Nicaragua was the chief topic of discussion.

Orders calling for the dispatch of reinforcements which will bring American forces in the battle area up to 3,415 men came as opponents of the administration's Central American policy proposed to demand a sweeping congressional investigation of the Nicaraguan situation.

Criticism of the navy's withdrawal of large contingents of the Nicaraguan expeditionary forces prior to the complete pacification of the country dominated the comment of senators and representatives who discussed the matter today, and this phase of the situation is certain to inspire spirited debate in both houses.

Will Clear Up Bandit Nest.

Announcement of the decision to send more marines came after the President and cabinet had decided that sufficient men must be sent to Nicaragua to stamp out the bandit infested stronghold of Gen. Sandino where six marines have lost their lives in the fighting of the last few days.

Secretary Kellogg following a luncheon conference with the President issued a formal statement announcing the government's intention to "cooperate with the constabulary of Nicaragua effectively to establish order throughout that country and make possible the holding of a free and fair election which we have undertaken to supervise."

The secretary reiterated that this government and Nicaragua consider the Sandino forces as bandits. "It will be recalled," Mr. Kellogg said, "that both sides agreed to lay down their arms and that they did so with the exception of a comparatively small body of men under Sandino, which has been augmented by lawless elements."

Gen. Feland to Resume Command.

Simultaneously with the issuance of the order sending 500 men from the Pacific coast, it was announced that Brig. Gen. Logan Feland, commanding the marine barracks at Paris Island, has been ordered to proceed to Nicaragua and take over the command of operations there, now in command of Col. L. M. Gullick.

The new regiment will be commanded by Col. Robert H. Dunlop of Quantico from which point more than half of the Atlantic contingent will be recruited. The other marines will come from Paris Island and San Diego.

Senator Wheeler (Dem., Mont.) took the lead in denouncing the administration for permitting United States marines to be exposed to such dangers as has resulted in the death of sixteen marines and the wounding of approximately forty others since last May.

BANDITS LOSE 100 MEN

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 3.—Further reports received from the United States marines who took part in the fighting around Quilali state the bandits who attacked the marine column from both sides of the brush covered trail were put to rout with heavy losses. A prisoner reported the bandits lost more than 100 killed ing supplies from Honduras. Mounted bandits well laden with supplies have passed through the departments of El Estero and Nueva Segovia within the last week.

Severe Blow to Sandino.
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Airplanes returning this afternoon from the region of Quilali were unable to find any sign of rebel troops. It is believed they have gone to El Chipote, 18 miles away, to concentrate against the American marines who captured their base.

The original captors of the city, reinforced by a combat patrol, are holding Quilali with an additional column of reinforcements on the way and the promise of 1,000 more marines from the United States to assist in controlling the situation throughout the country.

The capture of Quilali by the marines last Friday was a severe blow to the repudiated liberal general, Augusto Sandino, who has used the town as a base since last July. He has made one counter-attack since losing the city.

Planes Drop Medical Supplies.
The chief concern of the marines at Quilali at present is to remove the sick and wounded to Managua, although medical supplies were taken to them by the reinforcing patrol. Airplanes today dropped quinine and antitetanus serum for the seriously wounded.

A landing field is to be prepared immediately at Quilali in order to save the long muleback trip now necessary to Coatal, where the last disturbing elements in the little country which the United States has largely pacified. It also shows the route of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who reached Honduras yesterday and who will fly tomorrow over the district where the marines are fighting the bandit forces of Gen. Sandino on his way to Managua, Nicaragua.

Upon arrival of additional supplies at Quilali all of the marines and Nicaraguan national guardsmen will be consolidated to begin an offensive against Sandino. El Chipote, where he is believed to be, is an almost inaccessible mountain stronghold 100 feet above sea level. Sandino's camp is near the Coco river and deserters from his forces have informed the marines that he has several river boats ready to take him toward the sea he is hard pressed.

Stevadores Strike.
Stevadores of the port of Corinto are on strike and are refusing to discharge cargoes from vessels unless their wages are increased. Maj. Robert J. Jordan, collector of customs at Corinto, who reported the strike today, believes outside influences caused the strike in sympathy with the Sandino movement. Government secret agents are investigating to ascertain the source of outside aid which is believed to have been given to Sandino.

The government is reinforcing the national guard at Corinto to preserve order and is sending substitute stevedores there to discharge cargoes from vessels bringing in government supplies. The steamship Venezuela, bound for Panama, did not discharge its cargo yesterday.

LAUNDRY BANDITS HOLD UP 15, GET $650 FROM SAFE

Two bandits last night forced 15 drivers of the Austin Wet Wash laundry to lie on the wet floor of the washing room at 230 North Crawford avenue while one of the pair took Louis Korogorsky, the manager, into the office, made him open the safe and hand over $650. The bandits then robbed Nathan Seidman, foreman of the drivers, of $50 and escaped with a lookout who waited at the curb with an automobile.

The bandits, one carrying a sawed-off shotgun and the other a revolver, entered shortly after the drivers had turned in their day's receipts and discharged the shotgun into the ceiling with the warning that the next shot would be directed at the men if they resisted.

Another west side robbery was attempted early in the evening, resulting in the serious wounding of Mrs. Matilda Gray, 54 year old widow, living in a second floor flat at 415 South Robey street. Mrs. Gray answered a knock at her door only to face a man who demanded her money and tried to force his way in. She shoved him back, knocking his hat off. As the man stooped to pick up the hat, she fired the bullet hitting Mrs. Gray in the abdomen. Fred Hoezel, living in the flat below, attracted by the shot ran up the rear stairs armed with a hatchet, but the bandit fled through the flat and escaped down the front stairs.

COOLIDGE WRIST SUFFERS SETBACK AFTER NEW YEAR

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—(Special.)—President Coolidge is suffering a recurrence of the swelling of the tendons around the small bone of his right wrist which gave him considerable trouble last year. The inflammation is attributed to the strain placed on the President's wrist yesterday when he shook hands with more than 2,500 well wishers who attended the annual New Year's day reception. Maj. James Couper, the President's personal physician, declared that the wrist was responding to treatment and that it was not interfering with the President's routine. Mr. Coolidge is scheduled to shake hands with at least 2,000 people at the judiciary reception next Thursday evening.

ON TO NICARAGUA! MARINES AND LINDY

The map shows the movement of United States marines from American ports and the Panama canal to Nicaragua to crush the last disturbing elements in the little country which the United States has largely pacified. It also shows the route of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who reached Honduras yesterday and who will fly tomorrow over the district where the marines are fighting the bandit forces of Gen. Sandino on his way to Managua, Nicaragua.

The marines have been steadily forcing Gen. Sandino back in the last few months, until now order is restored in all Nicaragua but the small triangle in the state of Nueva Segovia formed by the Coco and Jicaro rivers and the Honduran border.

MARINES FIGHT IN LAND OF GOLD AND BUCCANEERS

Romance Fills Rebel Area of Nicaragua.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The state of Nueva Segovia, in which American marines at present are waging a campaign to crush the bandit forces of Gen. Augusto Sandino, has a romantic history.

Nueva Segovia was settled by the Spaniards very early, sent there by Francisco Hernandez de Cordoba, first Spanish governor of Nicaragua, in 1526, after he had founded the cities of Granada and Leon in 1523. Hernando de Soto, who later discovered the Mississippi river, was one of Cordoba's lieutenants in occupying Nueva Segovia. That region was a favorite of the early Spaniards and was rapidly colonized because of the gold mines.

Probably for the same reason it attracted the attention of the English buccaneers of the 17th century, who under Drake, Dampier, and others ravaged the towns and mines in the Jicaro and Dipito regions.

Many of the towns in Nueva Segovia are inhabited almost entirely by whites, descendants of the Spaniards who came there in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and later. Many villages also are inhabited almost exclusively by descendants of the original Indians. These are civilized, speak only Spanish, and are either agriculturists or work in the mines.

In one town, Condega, the people are practically all Negroes, and according to local tradition are descendants of slaves whom the old buccaneers had taken from Spanish galleons and impressed into their own service, and who, deserting their masters in the invasion of Nueva Segovia, settled at this place.

Sandino Has Big Following.
According to American mining engineers who had lived in Nueva Segovia for a number of years, the people were quiet, law abiding and good workers up to this year. In politics they were nearly all Liberals, which up to recently meant anti-government (Conservative), and for fifteen years up to several years ago also meant anti-American.

The present uprising started when Sandino's portion of Moncada's revolutionary army broke away from the latter, refusing to surrender their arms. Sandino seems to be a radical enthusiast with persuasive powers. The people of the whole Segovian region are said by these engineers, who either fled or were forced out, to be supporters or sympathizers of Sandino's movement.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Jan. 3.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh came to Honduras today. He entered the capital as a conqueror to win the acclaim of the populace that awaited him, in this city—a bit of old Spain.

With hand playing, flags flying and the streets festooned with colors, bridged with triumphal arches and strewn with pine needles, the American viking of the air rode with the president of the republic, Paz Barahona, and United States Minister Sumnerin, while children threw roses in the path of the car.

Came Out of Clouds.
The flyer who flew from San Salvador and whose coming had been awaited by 6,000 persons who had gathered at Toncontin field early this morning, first appeared in a rift in the clouds to the west beyond a range of hills at 1:42 o'clock central time, but was hidden instantly by black clouds.

For a moment or two a drizzle of rain obscured the Spirit of St. Louis, stilling the cheers which rose at the first view. But they broke forth with renewed vigor as the plane was seen again circling the hills, five miles distant to the northward, toward the city. In the hills, the clouds showed, it was raining hard.

Again the plane was lost to view, but the booming of 21 guns, the salute of the city, indicated its nearness once more. The cheers of the crowd swelled to a pandemonium of delight when the plane was sighted heading through a shower for the northern end of the field.

Floats Like Down of Thistle.
Three times Col. Lindbergh circled the field, flying lower and lower, amid continued cheering. Then, apparently floating like the down of a thistle, the plane landed easily at 1:55 p. m. central standard time. He turned the plane and taxied toward the president and all the ministers who stood before the hangars.

The crowd, held back by soldiers, had been extraordinarily well behaved heretofore, but was now unable to resist the impulse to rush to the plane. Col. Lindbergh, barely discernible in the cockpit, leaned his goggled head through the window, grinned coolly, and waved back the crowd. Despite their excitement the people were so struck by his sangfroid that they stopped, yelling in delight and crying "Viva Lindbergh!"

Minister Sumnerin presented President Barahona, Foreign Minister Davila, and the minister of public works, Señor Menéndez, who will be Col. Lindbergh's personal aid during his visit. Next he was presented to the reception committee and the members of the cabinet.

Heads Parade to City.
Then a procession of cars started the slow journey to the capital. The roads were lined with people and the official cars were followed by scores of automobiles and trucks bearing hundreds, while scores of men dashed back and forth on ponies.

Col. Lindbergh was taken to the United States legation and allowed to rest until the time came for a dinner given by Minister Sumnerin in honor of President Barahona and the flyer.

Col. Lindbergh will be received tomorrow by President Barahona, who will present a medal to him. He will be received by congress, which will make him a colonel and crown him with a wreath of laurel. He will also receive a visit from the municipal authorities.

PANAMA CITY, Jan. 3.—Panama's fairest daughters are spending busy times preparing their "Pollera" costumes, following a message from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in which he expressed a wish to get acquainted with Panama's native customs. A committee is preparing a grand "Tolito," meaning carnival time, introducing Panama's famous colonial Pollera dances, which will be held in booths all over the city.

Col. Lindbergh is expected Monday and will stay four days.
The Panama Canal press worked throughout the New Year holidays printing nearly 1,000,000 special Lindbergh stamps which will be sold on the day of the colonel's arrival. They are printed in special ink and carry the legend of his arrival in Panama.

THIRD CHICAGOAN IS FOUND SLAIN IN CALIFORNIA

California authorities yesterday were confronted with the third mystery of a Chicagoan, within a week, when the body of Frank Tabb, 28, was found in a thicket near Merced. He had been dead for about three weeks. The body had been fractured, apparently by a club.

The first murder discovered was that of Mrs. Amelia Appley, widow of a Chicagoan, whose body was found in a sack at Los Angeles. Dr. Charles A. McMillan, her business adviser, held for questioning concerning her death. The second was that of John W. Grotefeld, 52, wealthy owner of the Chicago commission firm of J. M. Train & Co., slain while on a business trip, and identified after being kept for a month in a potter's field at Lincoln, Cal.

Relatives of Mr. Grotefeld said his body will be brought here for a burial.

CRISIS ON WAGES AS SMALL HOLDS UP CAR BILLS

Calls Special Session, but

plemented by mileage every week they go to Springfield.

But they also argue that if the purpose is to keep the present primary machinery as nearly intact as possible the necessary bills must be passed this month, as under the present system petition filing starts in February.

For those reasons Representative Thomas O. Curran, one of the governor's leading henchmen, already has begun an attempt to bring about the adoption of a definite program, with several groups in the assembly behind it. He presented his idea to Homer K. Galpin, county chairman, who said he would take it up today with State's Attorney Crowe, who was at home with a bad cold.

Hopes to Reach Agreement.
"There's no reason," Representative Curran said, "why we can't thrash out our differences of opinion in advance so that when we reach Springfield we'll know exactly what's ahead of us."

While this suggestion was not put in final form, roughly stated, it was that the Small, Thompson, and Deneen groups try to reach an agreement on the kind of primary they want or will accept and that possibly the Democrats also might be called into conference. "If that is done," Curran added, "we can count noses and find out if there are enough votes to pass the legislation, the contrary could be shut off, and we could get through in a hurry."

Discusses Emergency Clause.
Representative Curran also said he will seek from Attorney General Carlson an opinion as to the exact number of votes required to pass a primary bill with an emergency clause to make it effective at once for spring nominations.

It has been assumed that in the house, for instance, a full two-thirds count of 102 would be required for the emergency. But Representative Curran points out that there have been an unusually large number of deaths among the representatives—a total of seven—reducing the full membership to 146. And two-thirds of 146 is only 98 votes.

"That difference of four votes might save us a lot of trouble and I recall that the United States Supreme court held in a case attacking prohibition that a two-thirds of those present was all that was needed to meet a two-thirds requirement," Curran declared.

Things Covered in Call.
The subjects covered in the call for the special session, besides all phases of primary and ballot legislation made necessary by court proceedings attacking the validity of the existing statute, also cover the conflicts in legislation growing out of eleventh hour amendments to the 1927 law, by which the legislative effort to restrict downstate bond issues was defeated in the Supreme court.

Another subject of the governor's special call is to fix the tax rate for the south park board. The legislature approved an increase in the park tax rate from 13.75 cents to 20 cents, but that was lost through a state Supreme court decision on a downstate bond question. The same case wiped out a limitation of the bonding power of downstate counties and cities to half that of Cook county and Chicago. Simple bills, it is said, will cover these two subjects. The same is true of an appropriation for salaries of two commissioners of the state Supreme court which the last session, because of an oversight, failed to reach a final vote.

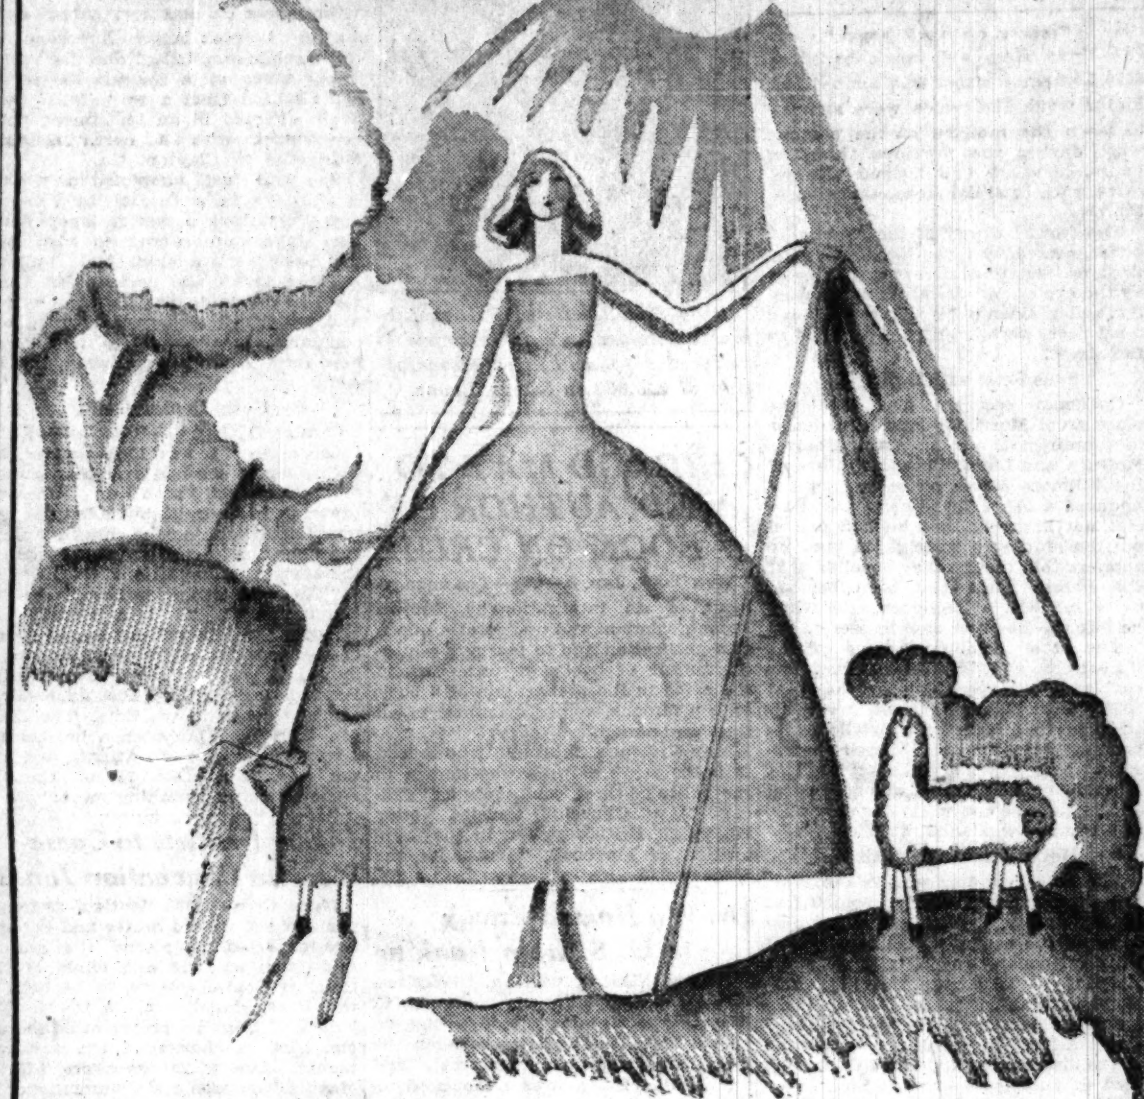

COUNCIL DEBATES CIVIL SERVICE IN FIRE DEPARTMENT

Warfare in the fire department over control of the bureau of fire prevention burst out anew on the floor of the city council yesterday, ending in postponement of a settlement after a half hour of debating.

The council had before it majority and minority committee reports on an ordinance recommended by Fire Commissioner A. W. Goodrich, the effect of which would be to put Battalion Chief John Touhy in charge of the bureau, making him the superior of John Plant, civil service employee, who would be a subordinate.

Ald. John Chapman (40th) and Ald. Donald S. McKinlay (19th) fought the ordinance while Ald. John Hosten (47th) and Ald. Oscar Nelson (46th) sponsored it. Ald. Chapman cited Plant's four year record, in which the latter, by Touhy's testimony before the committee, has "dismissed hundreds of cases of fire ordinance violations."

WHO WILL BUY NEW CAR LINES? HEWITT QUERIES

Hints Terminable Is an Eternal Grant.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

"Terminable permit," to mean anything to the public, must be a franchise that some one, somehow, at some time will be able to terminate, if the interests of the car riders so dictate.

The "terminable permit," the transportation companies request, is "a grant without time limitation" unless and until the city buys the transit properties or selects a purchaser willing to pay the price.

The present prospect of the city's buying is trifling. It hasn't the money for the means of getting it. Its financial ability to buy is a matter of the future. The only present hope of making the proposed "terminable permit" really terminable lies in the reservation of power in the city, to designate a buyer. That is not worth much, either, under the bill as drafted and being considered by the council local transportation committee and the representatives of the companies.

Might Manipulate Price.

If that bill as drawn were enacted into a law conferring on the city the power to grant a "terminable permit," it would be possible to prepare an ordinance permitting manipulation, as a result of which a price could be fixed at which no designated outside company would buy. In that event the "terminable permit" would constitute "without time limitation," in effect a perpetual grant.

If, as requested, the only method of terminating the permit, is to be by purchase—either by the city itself or designated corporations—the first natural thought should be: "What will be the price?"

The bill does not require the fixing of a price in advance of granting a franchise, as the 1907 franchisees provided. All the bill says about the price of the property is "that such permit . . . may also provide for the manner of valuation of such property or properties, in case of such purchase, and may also provide for the terms and conditions of such purchase." Why wait until the city is ready to exercise its reserved legal power to buy or designate a purchaser before there is a definite and agreed value on the property?

Some Possible Contingencies.

Suppose the present price level falls 40 per cent and the companies spend $500,000,000 in extensions and improvements estimated; and when the city is ready to buy or designate a buyer prices have risen 75 per cent by reason of another war, then what will the price profit be? The existing elevated and surface lines at $260,000,000 plus $500,000,000 in improvements would make $760,000,000. Then along would come appraisers and tack on 75 per cent more to the $500,000,000 and possibly try to add another 75 per cent to the $260,000,000. If they succeeded in boosting the $500,000,000 only 75 per cent, the value of the $760,000,000 worth of property would have a purchase price of $1,335,000,000.

If 75 per cent also were added to the original $260,000,000, the aggregate sale price would be $1,330,000,000. The profit by increment in one case would be $375,000,000 and in the other $370,000,000. Perhaps the ability to make a profit has been exaggerated; but it illustrates the consequences which may follow the neglect of fixing a sale price in advance of granting a permit.

Aldermen Overlook a Bet.

The companies cannot object to agreeing on a valuation now, because they first suggested purchase, either by city or designated buyer. The aldermen in their ordinance have not even pretended to reserve the right to designate a purchaser.

If there is no valuation fixed in advance—and it is optional with the aldermen whether there shall be—the companies will be privileged, under the conditions assumed above, to ask the regulatory body to increase the valuation 75 per cent for the purpose of collecting fares and paying dividends. They might be permitted to do that before the appraisers determined on a valuation for city or other designated purchaser. Then what?

If a franchise is to be given "without time limitation," except by purchase of the properties; it is fundamental that the valuation for sale shall be an advance essential to a valid permit. Officials anxious to protect public interests would not object to making such a provision mandatory in the bill.

Should Be Amortized.

Even if the valuation is fixed in advance, however, that would not necessarily attract an outside purchaser. The buyer would want a property that was paying well. It could be made an excellent money earner as a utility, if part of the investment were amortized. That too is optional in the bill. The companies could not afford to make a strenuous objection against reasonable amortization. Some of the surface lines' chiefs have publicly advocated it. Amortization, of its equivalent is a requisite to sound and careful financing of a utility.

If a reasonable amount of the investment is paid off and retired annually, the valuation would be reduced or prevented from increasing. The result would be that there eventually would be much more value in the properties than the sale valuation. The percentage of dividends would have to be increased or the fares reduced. In any event the properties would be made attractive to persons in control of millions. Theoretically, a letdown in service would bring complaints and cause a demand by public officials for a sale by the then owners.

Some Call May Mandatory.

Why it should not be mandatory to provide for a sound amortization in the permit has not been explained. The bill as drawn says amortization "may" be provided. Some of the aldermen claim that in a legal sense the word "may" means "shall." Sometimes it does and then sometimes it doesn't. But assume that the aldermen will require amortization in the permit, what are they going to amortize unless there is an agreed valuation in advance? Under the bill as drawn, it is possible to have one valuation for dividend rates and fares, another for city or other designated purchase and a third for amortization purposes.

The 1907 ordinance demonstrated to the world that it was feasible and practicable to have an agreed valuation in advance for fares, sale price and amortization. If that had not been done Chicago would be paying a higher street car fare today; because the agreed price of $153,000,000 is $40,000,000 to $52,000,000 below the appraised value of the Surface Lines. The city's traction fund of about $50,000,000 is the equivalent of an amortization fund, and the agreed price of $153,000,000 figures directly in that traction fund.

There is no room for quibble on the advisability of an agreed valuation in advance and amortization being fundamental requirements of a permit. Without both, there can be little hope of terminating the franchise by purchase.

REMUS' TRIP TO ASYLUM DELAYED BY WRIT HEARING

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 3.—(AP)—George Remus was saved from the Lima insane asylum today only by the prolongation of a writ of habeas corpus hearing until next Thursday.

Holding that a matter of grave public policy was involved, Judge Charles S. Bell of common pleas court said he would need another 48 hours before handing down his decision on the application for the writ. In addition to many citations of precedent given him by Charles H. Elston, counsel for Remus, and Charles F. Tarr, county prosecutor, Judge Bell said that others would be welcomed tomorrow morning.

Remus lost his hope of a new sanity hearing and release on bond when Judge William H. Lueders of the probate court, who last week adjudged Remus insane and dangerous to be at large, denied a petition by Elston.

McNab died last week.

WELL EQUIPPED U. S. TO PROSPER, COOLIDGE SAYS

Labor Saving Utensils to Aid 1928 Record.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—(Special.)—President Coolidge foresees a prosperous year for the United States in 1928. This view was taken by him today following a cabinet meeting, at which the economic and business situation was discussed.

In the opinion of the President, the United States has done so much in the way of labor saving machinery that it is able to manufacture at reduced rates, and this, he believes, has put this country on the threshold of the new era. "It is this improved machinery, permitting American manufacturers to produce at a lower cost, that is not only permitting the sale of commodities at a lower rate, in spite of a high wage scale, but is enabling them to compete with foreign producers. That is the new note in American economic life."

Save in Production Costs.

The President cited the changing condition as similar to that of a generation ago, when the United States entered the manufacturing period from the home and household production phase. The advanced production, he feels, will be reflected in production costs that will enable Americans to compete with foreign countries in all markets and at the same time maintain the high wage scale.

Cabinet officials reported to the President that the prospects are for a good year in business and with no apparent indications of a recession in the present industrial progress. The labor department reported that there was an increase in employment. The railroads are purchasing additional equipment and the automobile manufacturers are increasing their working hours, thereby increasing the demand for steel and iron as well.

Credit and Wages Good.

The President finds that there is a plentiful supply of credit, which means that interest rates are reasonably low, so that industry and commerce will have no difficulty in their financial program. The general rates of wages are at a record peace time level.

STORE DAMAGED BY FIRE.

Fire, believed to have been caused by an overheated heater in the basement of a two-story brick building at 4834 North Western avenue, caused $500 damage to a grocery store on the first floor last night.

TWO JURORS ARE ACCEPTED FOR TRIAL OF HILL

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 3.—(Special.)—Only two jurors have been tentatively accepted by both the state and the defense for the trial of Harry Hill, Streator youth who is charged with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Eliza A. Hill, when court adjourned this afternoon. They were H. V. Weeks, Millington lumber and coal dealer, and Mike Conness, farmer. Earlier in the day the one juror who had been tentatively agreed upon last week had been excused because of poor health.

Hill watches the selection of the jurors closely, frequently consulting the attorneys as to their selection.

Shop Fire Scars Hotel Patrons; Ask State Inquiry

The Evanston police and firemen yesterday requested the state fire marshal to make an investigation of a fire in the Variety dress shop, 503 Davis street, which caused damage estimated at $12,000. The shop is in the North Shore hotel and guests fled from their rooms when smoke poured through the hallways. Firemen said some of the dresses had been soaked with kerosene and an elevator boy reported seeing a woman in the shop a short time before the fire started.

Today's Fact on SINUS TROUBLE

No. 15—Snuffing Indicates Sinus Trouble

Is your cold gone? Yes, but your air passages continue to feel clogged and you have difficulty in clearing your nose? Discharges pass into your throat? These are the most common symptoms of sinus infection. Common colds, continual colds (coryza), or catarrhal cold (rhinitis), inflame and congest the mucous membrane of the nostrils. This membrane extends into the nasal sinuses, and the swelling partly or wholly blocks proper drainage and ventilation of those important head cavities. The harbored secretions degenerate, infection multiplies, and sinusitis is well started.

Infected sinuses, like infected teeth or tonsils, slowly poison the blood, possibly for months or years, without any noticeable effects. Suddenly headaches, dizziness, pains about the eyes and in the cheeks, and general fatigue overtake you. Their meaning is serious—possibly vital! You are then a victim of advanced sinusitis. (Next article, No. 16; "Sinus Infections.")

"SinuSeptic" washes away the drainage from sinuses and rids the nasal cavity of toxic secretions. Reduces congestion and inflammation. Quick relief for head colds and catarrh! Highly recommended by thousands of users everywhere. Comprehensive booklet, "What Is Sinus Trouble?" in every package.

Richer in One Year

—through the Neighborhood Banks

THE NEIGHBORHOOD BANKS OF Chicago and its suburbs have just credited their savings depositors' accounts with more than $5,000,000.00 in interest, earned during the past six months. The interest for the entire year of 1927 was in excess of $11,000,000.00. Increased prosperity, more comforts and luxuries, greater financial safety, their own homes, protection for old age—these are some of the benefits enjoyed by thousands who share in this distribution of wealth by the Neighborhood Banks. Located near homes, stores, shops and factories throughout the city and its suburbs, these banks make it convenient for anyone to save money which works day and night to make more money for the depositor. That the great usefulness of the Neighborhood Banks to their communities is being realized more and more is shown by the amazing increase in their savings and commercial deposits from $65,000,000.00 in 1910 to $723,000,000.00 today. A savings account has started many a man on the road to riches. It has protected many an individual and family against adversity. This is the logical time for you to open a savings account at your Neighborhood Bank, thereby insuring yourself a share in the interest distribution for 1928.

VOCAL GUNS OF CONGRESS BEGIN TO BARK TODAY

Prohibition, Politics, and Foreign Policies Topics.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—(Special.)—Politics, prohibition, and various international and domestic questions will furnish topics for oratorical outbursts with the reconvening of congress tomorrow.

General debate on an appropriation bill in the house commencing tomorrow will be given an opportunity for speeches by members on a wide variety of subjects under an agreement whereby discussion need not be confined to the measure under consideration.

In the senate, where there is no restriction as to matters which may be debated, many senators are awaiting an opportunity to air their views on questions of public interest.

Little Debate So Far.

Speeding up of action on the tax and alien property bills in the house during the three weeks congress was in session prior to the holidays made it impossible for many representatives to get the floor for speeches on other subjects. In the senate, also, there was comparatively little of the impromptu debate on subjects not actually pending for consideration which usually marks its proceedings.

With a presidential campaign getting under way the administration is certain to be under constant fire during the coming months in congress. Administration supporters are preparing to reply to the attacks of Democrats and radical Republicans.

The extent to which prohibition will figure in congressional debates is somewhat uncertain as yet. It is understood that prominent Democratic leaders affiliated with the dry wing of the party have urged wet Democratic senators and house members to refrain from agitating prohibition as a political issue.

Victory Smith Victory.

These days have told the wets that the nomination of Gov. Al Smith of New York as the Democratic presidential candidate is virtually assured and that if his supporters emphasize his wet leanings too much it will make it that much harder to swing the wets of the party into line for him.

The dries have advised the wets that the latter have a victory in sight in the prospective nomination of Gov. Smith, but that unless they soft pedal on prohibition discussions in congress they will have scant chance of electing the New York governor.

International questions which will figure in debates in the senate and house include American policies in Nicaragua, where the situation has become acute by clashes between marines and rebels during the last few days, and in Mexico and China. Proposed treaties for the outlawry of war, debt settlements, the league of nations and the world court will be among questions affecting relations with European nations which are certain to be talked about.

"Nothing to Live For," Girl Takes Poison in Loop Hotel

"I've nothing to live for. He lied to me and said he would take me back home to Cleveland, but I love him still," read a note written by Miss Margaret Fern of 11500 E. 10th avenue, Cleveland, O., shortly before she swallowed six poison tablets early this morning at the Morrison hotel. She was given prompt treatment by Dr. E. J. Schott, the hotel physician, and pronounced out of danger at the county hospital. She would not divulge the man's name.

In Which Olaf Breaks All Records for Luck

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 3.—(Special.)—Olaf Nanson's auto skidded off the bridge over the Chicago and North Western railroad today. It turned completely over and landed on its wheels on the tracks with Olaf jarred but uninjured behind the wheel. Then Olaf saw a train bearing down and jumped before the engine smashed the auto. It was insured.

KENILWORTH ACTS TO CLEAR UP ROW OVER ROAD ROUTE

Proposes 3 Sites for North Highway.

The extended controversy over the alignment of West Railroad avenue in the village of Kenilworth, which has resulted in holding back county operations on the proposed through highway along the north shore to Highland Park, was partially disposed of yesterday before the county board. Trustees of Kenilworth submitted three possible routes, any one of which they stated, would be acceptable.

The routes suggested as available are: First, a 120 foot right of way located 600 feet west of the North Western railway; second, a 100 foot location about 100 feet west of the railway line, and third, an 80 foot right of way adjoining the embankment. The first involves an expense of $500,000, the second about $250,000, and the third is considered nominal.

The proposals were submitted to the road and bridge committee by Maj. C. A. Quinnan, county superintendent of highways, who stated that any one of the rights of way would be acceptable to the county. When the village turned over to the county the title of property to be agreed on, work on the improvement would start, he added.

So far as the county is concerned, it was stated in the committee, no preference exists. Commissioner William Buse, chairman of the committee, stated that the preference is a matter up to the village solely. If Kenilworth cares to go into the expenditure of a half million or more for right of way, he said, the county is willing to accept the property.

It was made clear in the committee, however, that the county would not extend any financial aid in obtaining the right of way. It was also made clear that if the village did not get action at once in the alignment, it was possible that it would be too late to participate in the disbursements from the county's $15,000,000 bond issue.

Construction of the 40 foot highway through Evanston, Wilmette, Winnetka and Glencoe is scheduled for this spring, and in case Kenilworth does not act, the balance of the highway will be completed according to program, it was pointed out.

The proposal of the Kenilworth trustees was coincident with announcement that the park board of Glencoe is arranging to purchase property along the Northwestern right of way for the purpose of providing ground to aid the railway company depress its tracks through the north shore suburbs. Similar action is pending before the park boards of other suburbs.

New bids are to be asked for the delivery of 700,000 barrels of cement to the county for its season's highway work. Bids on nineteen and a half miles of 40 foot road are to be received tomorrow, but awards will probably be deferred until the next board meeting late in January.

THE NICARAGUAN FIGHTING.

Lindbergh is creating a more cordial feeling for the United States in Mexico and Central America. President Coolidge soon goes to Cuba to explain American purposes to the Pan-American congress and may give a new effect to the Monroe Doctrine, in a form which will be indorsed instead of protested. In these bettering conditions Nicaragua is a serious detraction, unquestionably embarrassing to the American government. It is not the least so because there seems to be nothing else to do about it than what is being done.

Without intervention, persuasion, direction and some control Nicaragua will be distracted by warring factions. Americans who object to American procedure assume that if restraint were removed the people of the country would soon find their own balance and establish a government to which they would all submit and which would be orderly on a basis of free suffrage intelligently used.

If that would be the case the disagreeable campaign the U. S. marines are conducting would be unnecessary. There is a long record of what happens in Nicaragua when American force is withdrawn. The party chiefs do not accept the results of political action, but appeal from ballots to bullets. The ballot is a fiction and the bullets are facts.

The American government properly holds that there must be order in the states whose disorders can disturb American trade routes. It is a humane and not an inhuman doctrine. It is scandalous when political disorders expose the people to the miseries of useless civil war, keep them from raising their crops and endanger them with pestilence. However much they dislike this, they are largely unable to help themselves when their vigorous and inconsiderate leaders are determined to fight for the state revenues and the power of government.

Haiti is now an example of what can be accomplished when turbulent elements have been quieted. The cruel factions of Haiti were making a slaughterhouse of the country and it was headed for the jungle. Its president is now able to keep his head and live in security. He is a friend of the United States and the United States makes it possible for his government to function. That condition eventually will be established in Nicaragua and the people will have a government which will rest on such franchise rights as they can exercise peacefully and which will permit an ordered state of society.

In the meanwhile Sanguino refuses to accept the compromises and conditions to which the other Nicaraguan leaders agreed and he is able to keep up an irregular warfare in which the American marine expedition has had unfortunate casualties and in which the Nicaraguans must have lost heavily. It is a different thing to bring this to an end by capturing the stubborn native leader because of the nature of the country, which favors escape and makes pursuit difficult.

The responsibility of the United States is apparent. Its doctrine is that other nations must not interfere with the smaller countries of America. They must not seek control of them and they are not permitted to seek redress for injuries by force. If it were otherwise a matter of indifference to the United States what conditions prevailed in neighboring states this country sooner or later would have to answer for consequences in disordered regions where it not only admits but asserts an obligation.

AN IMPORTED GAME.

Jai alai, which has been imported to Chicago from the Basque country by way of Havana and New Orleans, seems to be getting along. It is attracting hundreds, if not thousands, every night. It is fast and exciting. The game is played indoors but the scale is heroic, requiring superlative agility, speed, strength, and dexterity. The game is new to Americans. It will be some time before our boys become proficient at it, but it is difficult to believe that they will not take it up.

At this latitude we must be grateful for all good winter games. Basketball was invented to fill the need. Last year we imported professional hockey from Canada. It is played indoors, but it has stimulated interest in skating, which remains the best of the outdoor sports in this region. With no tobogganing and only limited opportunity for skiing and snowshoe running, skating in Chicago is the only outdoor pastime which can be widely enjoyed in winter. Skating, like swimming, is a sport which can be enjoyed at small expense and at any time of life, and it is more exhilarating than swimming. What all the popular outdoor sports—swimming, tennis, golf, baseball, and the rest—are in summer, skating is in winter.

Jai alai is too exciting a game ever to compete with skating as a winter sport for more than a few, even if playing space could be provided. None the less, it is welcome. It is worth seeing. Betting on the result may heighten the interest, but the game can be enjoyed without the gambling. The game of jai alai may lead to the importation of other indoor sports. There is need for them during the months when the outdoors offers limited opportunity for recreation.

A SPECIAL SESSION FOR THE DIRECT PRIMARY.

Gov. Small has called the legislature for special session Jan. 10 to get a new primary law in time for the next nominations. If it had been of any use we would have asked what's the rush? There isn't any. The most successful politicians have learned to use the direct primary as a sure thing and they want it. Twenty years ago they hated the name of it. Political reform relied on it. The political manipulators detested it. Experience has taught a lesson both ways.

For the political leaders the direct primary is coal in the bin and mud on the radio. The special session will have the outer garments of high public morality. It will be to reestablish the people in their political liberties. In fact it will be to give them back the knife with which they generally whittle their fingers. If this were not the case there'd be a chance that Illinois might at least experiment again with the convention system and at least have an opportunity to compare both methods. That would be worth while, but political management finds the direct primary better suited for its purposes than the old convention was.

The convention was a part of representative government. The direct primary is not. Instead of improving the representation when things went wrong with convention nominations we changed the machinery of nomination. It is an ever hopeful, ever confident process in which we always learn and seldom acknowledge that machinery is not a substitute for character and intelligence.

WAR ON THE RACKETEERS.

A meeting of several hundred business, professional, and labor leaders of Chicago with the principal law enforcement officers is to be held on Jan. 19. Silas Strawn, president of the American Bar Association, is credited with having proposed the meeting. He hopes that as a result of it an effective campaign against racketeering and kindred gang activities can be waged.

Mr. Strawn is convinced that criminal activity, though no more prevalent here than in many other centers of population, is doing great injury to the good name of the community. The most effective way to restore Chicago's good name, he argues, is to reduce crime to a minimum. To accomplish that end we must arouse the citizens and we must win the fullest cooperation of public officials by showing them that the people will back their efforts to clean up the city.

Mr. Strawn has made an intelligent beginning. The alliance between politician and gangster will not easily be broken because it is mutually of great advantage. In return for support at the polls the gangster gets protection from his political allies. The situation is not likely to be remedied until politicians are convinced that their alliances with hoodlums are costly.

Business men pay tribute to the gangs in higher insurance rates and loss of out of town trade. Labor pays tribute in the higher cost of necessities. Small business men pay tribute directly in the form of dues to the racketeers. There is sound basis for an alliance of the decent elements in the community against the racketeers. Such an alliance will not easily be formed, but once it is achieved the end of gang rule will be in sight.

HE DON'T FRET.

Prof. Samuel Moore of the University of Michigan says "Aren't I?" He would like to say "Ain't I?" but his academic upbringing prevents. His tongue and lips will not permit him to say "Am I not?" The purists may rage and do, in fact, but he doesn't care. He believes in the living language rather than the rules. So does Prof. George M. Bolling of Ohio State university. You can't get him to say "somebody's else hat." "Somebody else's hat" may not parse, he admits, but "somebody's else hat" wears worse underwear.

We take comfort in the remarks of the professors ex cathedra, at the annual meeting of the Linguistic Society of America. They are fighting on the side of all who use language as a ladder to get somewhere. The purists are Japanese acrobats who lean their ladders against air and run up and down as busily as if they were rescuing orphans in a fire. Men and women who write for the newspapers must be concerned about all else with what they have to say. How they say it, provided they manage to be vivid and swift, is of less consequence.

We prefer the grammatical, but we do not worship it. It is our observation that purists, obsessed with the minutiae of style, waste their time and dissipate their energy on details. In their struggle for accuracy and precision they achieve nothing but fussiness. Reading them, you would never suspect that life is exhilarating or that language is alive.

Editorial of the Day

THE BAUMES LAWS REDUCE CRIME.

Crime and the methods of dealing with criminals are pressing problems before the country. Up to this time the best results have been in New York, where the Baumes laws have been in operation long enough to prove their value. State Senator Caleb Baumes, head of the commission that formulated the new code, announces that a few amendments and new proposals will be offered at the coming session of the legislature. Among these is a measure to deal more effectively with perjury, which, according to this authority, has reached a "frightful" stage.

Another reform, if enacted, would leave it entirely to the trial judge whether two or more indicted for the same crime should have separate trials. It is a moot question whether the inability of the prosecutor to comment on a defendant's unwillingness to testify in his own behalf is a serious deterrent to justice. It is assumed the jury will take note of the fact in any event. But the Baumes commission is convinced that the right should be given the prosecutor and that the jury should not be permitted by any chance to overlook the significance of failure to testify and, therefore, to be subjected to cross-examination.

Senator Baumes believes that making life imprisonment the penalty for felons offending for the fourth time has been one of the strongest features of the Baumes code. While only forty-three have been sentenced under this provision, the presumption is that many more have been deterred or have gone to states where they are not liable to such sentences. If all the states had such a law there would be no safe place for the habitual felon. At any rate, New York has reduced its crimes of violence from 40 to 60 per cent, and the Baumes laws have been held to be largely responsible. The showing admonishes other states to move intelligently to tighten the web about criminals operating within their boundaries.

WHERE CLEANLINESS COUNTS IN KITCHEN.

In deciding on the safety of a kitchen from the standpoint of those who are fed therefrom, the important thing to know is the condition of the utensils, and the personnel. Nothing else counts. What difference does it make if the food is good, since nobody there eats food on the floor? Likewise the ceiling, and even the shelves.

Dr. Peters, the commissioner of health of Dayton, has changed his method of inspecting kitchens because he thinks this way about it. What he now does is to send an inspector to a kitchen to gather up some cups, plates, spoons and pans. These are wrapped in clean paper and taken to the laboratory where they are examined for bacteria. Then they are returned to the owner. Especial attention is given to articles recently washed in order to test the efficacy of the washing machine, where there is one, or of the hand washing, where that method is employed.

In examining glassware the cultures are made from the rims or edges or other parts that are likely to touch the mouth of the person eating or drinking.

The kitchens are rated in five groups according to the bacterial counts. Grade A, or excellent, are those in which there are fewer than ten colonies of bacteria on a count. This grading makes allowance for the fact that kitchenware and tableware are never and need not be sterile in the sense that surgical instruments are.

This method was begun in Dayton nearly three years ago. At the first rating only one-fourth of the restaurants, cafeterias and hotel dining rooms in Dayton registered excellent. In a recent report nearly three-fourths of the places received such a rating. The method has proved inexpensive. The laboratory service and the time of a man who gathered up the specimens and returned them cost considerably less than the former inspection service.

Dr. Peters thinks that in a total score of one hundred for a safe kitchen, proper dish washing and cleanliness of glassware and utensils should count twenty-five, and marble floors, clean ceilings, shelves and corners should count five.

BAD TEETH AND GOITER.

C. K. F. writes: This is an item of probable interest to you. A woman of 64 had a good sized goiter on the right side of her neck. It had been there many years; started during a pregnancy, I believe, but had never hurt.

Recently she was advised to have all her remaining teeth removed to relieve rheumatism. The work was all rotten. Simultaneously with the last one out the goiter disappeared—vanished entirely, with nothing left but a fold of loose skin. I wonder if there have been any scientific hypotheses on this subject?

REPLY: Most physicians say that bad teeth and bad tonsils can cause or at least contribute to goiter. Some do not agree.

MORE ON BLOOD PRESSURE.

L. G. L. writes: Won't you be kind enough to publish once again all that is necessary about blood pressure? Explain the words "systolic" and "diastolic" and how much they should be.

REPLY: The systolic pressure is the pressure at the moment when the pulse is at its highest. The diastolic is the pressure between pulse beats. The pulse pressure is the difference between the systolic and the diastolic pressure.

Roughly speaking, the systolic pressure of a young, healthy person should be a little less than 120. Various factors cause considerable variation. Moderate elevations in systolic pressure, unaccompanied by evidence of disease of the heart, kidneys, or retina, are usually less important than people think.

Best ten cents and a stamped, addressed envelope for our booklet on blood pressure.

SOMEbody called us up on the telephone yesterday and piteously entreated us to tell him the formula for a Tom and Jerry. Well, as we look back down the years trying to remember the days when there were such things as Tom and Jerry, all we can recall of that delectable drink is that it had a bar with a brass rail, a bowl of batter made of milk and eggs and sugar, a kettle of boiling water, and a Bill Dorgan in an immaculate white jacket and with a diamond as big as a walnut on his shirt front. We'd yank the front door open and let the winter gale blow us in and say "Hello, Bill, happy New Year." Then we'd pour to the bowl of frothy egg and milk. And Bill would stir the eggs and milk around with a big spoon and put them in a mug, then he'd pour something out of a bottle into the mug, then the hot water, dust in some nutmeg, stir everything around with a spoon and shove it across the bar. That was a Tom and Jerry. Ah, memories, memories!

ADELAIDE.

WHEN THE NEW Board of Trade building goes up, we wish they'd put a statue of that gallant and forgotten gentleman, Robert S. La Follette, over the doorway, and carve in the pedestal Madison's inspiring poem to him from the 1927 Linebook. If there isn't room for the entire poem, at least the last stanza should be there:

A voyageur of vision, With all his battles told, He sees the newer frontier As once he saw the old, Its bravery of triumph, Its valor of defeat,

Its gleam, and power, and glory, And looks down his street, Doggone it, that's a great room, even if we did publish it ourself. We've put it in as permanent a form as we can, but we won't be satisfied until some one carves it in stone. And the Board of Trade looks as though it's elected.

TRAINING FOR DIPLOMACY.

Paris, Ill., Dec. 31.—I wish the writer of The Tribune's able editorial, "Lindbergh to Morrow to Killage," had gone further and given us an analysis of, or at least, a commentary on the psychology of the effectiveness of Lindbergh's apropos and shrewdly planned visit to Mexico. Hero worship is of course, the obvious explanation. But isn't there something in human nature more subtle, or perhaps, more simple—something we are not quite able to grasp that makes the presence of a Lindbergh or a Will Rogers more successful in arousing international good will than a whole host of common conventional ambassadors?

What is that inherent and intimate thing in people which makes the whole world smile with Lindbergh, laugh at Will Rogers and cry with a movie star, and having laughed and cried, renders them more amenable to persuasion and enlightenment? Is it, perhaps, that we serious grownups are not as serious as we think we are? Is it that emotions are primal and more powerful than reason? Let the psychologist answer. We should be trained flyers, kidders, or taught to do stunts of some sort to give them the human touch that makes the whole world kin. E. O. L.

TRIES TO MATCH CANADA MAYOR AND OUR BIG BILL

Gov. Green Pleads for Peaceful Relations.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Jan. 2.—(Special.)—The governor of Michigan paid his respects to the mayor of Sault Ste. Marie here last night, speaking at the opening of Sault Ste. Marie's new half-million dollar hotel locally promoted and named hotel—a hotel owned entirely by local citizens and on which every dollar is paid as it starts operations. At a banquet held in the hotel and attended by nearly 500 citizens and guests from Canada and the surrounding citizens, Gov. Green, in discussing the cordial relations between the United States and Canada, as reflected in the two Saults and at other Michigan points bordering Ontario, declared that of all governors "in and out of jail, not one of us has made such a fool of himself as Bill Thompson."

The Canadian Sault recently re-elected T. J. Irvin, reputedly of anti-American sentiment.

Calls Thompson Selfish.
"Why not let Irvin and Thompson fight it out themselves, instead of trying to start war between two fine, friendly countries?" Gov. Green suggested. "How badly Thompson must want that job as mayor, to jeopardize the cordial relations of the great English speaking nations to gratify his little ambitions."

"But let me tell you good folks here on the border—Bill Thompson represents no sentiment of the United States. He'll wallow around till he wakes us up and then we'll set a standard for mayors. The hope of the world for peace and prosperity lies in the continued fine, happy relations between the English speaking races, and there is not any disposition in this country to underestimate the English."

Canadian Official Speaks.
The Hon. James Lyons, member of the Canadian parliament, attended the banquet in an official capacity, and his address was an appeal that Americans should realize the commercial importance of Canada to the United States and of the United States to Canada.

MAYOR REVERSES DEVER; KEGEL PUT ON HEALTH BOARD

Dr. A. H. Kegel, health commissioner, was appointed by Mayor Thompson yesterday to membership on the board of health and the board of directors of the Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium to replace Corporation Counsel Etelson, who resigned.

The action of the mayor, which was formally approved by the city council, reverses that of former Mayor Dever, and his corporation counsel, Francis X. Busch. Mr. Busch issued an opinion holding that it is illegal for the health commissioner to belong to the board of health, an advisory body, and that hence he could not be a sanitarium director.

Although Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, then commissioner, had been a director up to that time, Mayor Dever asked for resignation and Mr. Busch was named to succeed him.

"I know all about that Busch opinion," explained Assistant Corporation Counsel James Breen yesterday. "It was all hatched up to fit the occasion. For the health commissioner not to be on the sanitarium board is absurd. Mayor Thompson is just putting him back where he belongs."

January Reports the Arrival of the Newest Flannels and Cotton Fabrics

No list of gay new fabrics for the South and the coming summer is complete without the many new cotton fabrics, both imported and domestic, that are arriving almost hourly. Never, of course, have they been so lovely, so varied, nor so perfectly adapted for smart Southern wear. The strips above give you only a glimpse of the selection which a visit to this section will reveal.

—and the new white wash fabrics! White, which knows no rival for smart Southern wear, receives the importance due it in our beautiful new collection of dotted and fancy swisses, embroidered and plain organdies, lawns and broad-cloths as well as a wonderful selection of materials suitable for lingerie. Among these lingerie fabrics there is none lovelier or more practical than the new Convent cloth, in 10-yard pieces, 40 inches wide, $5.85 the bolt.

—and the new flannels! Never have flannels promised to be more popular—and never have we had so fascinating and smart an assortment. Stunning patterns and weaves, new this season, novelly striped and plaid flannels and the new printed finnettes. This description can give you only the vaguest idea of the wealth of new fabrics gathered here for the South or for the coming summer—for now, of course, is not a bit too early to begin thinking about them!

Smartly Chosen Travel Costumes for the Larger Woman

Simple lines best become the woman of larger proportions. These two garments, and others not sketched, are typical.

Right, a travel coat with tuxedo collar of natural caracul extending to the hem emphasizes the height of the larger woman; in black or tan Junella cloth.

The tucked dress, center, of rust brown canton crepe has a smart surplice closing and graceful godet at the side front.

An Ensemble of Silk Beckons Southward

Nothing could be smarter or more stunning for immediate wear in the South than this exclusive Rodier printed silk wrap with a dress of georgette in Patou brown, sketched left. King fox bands the bottom of the coat and the sleeves. The print of the coat, which is also used in applique on the dress, is in tan and dark brown shades on a light ground.

SEEK DIRECTOR FOR MUSEUM OF INDUSTRIES

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Wanted—An executive director for the Jackson Park Industrial Museum, a $15,000,000 project demanding a man able to direct the work of others, have experience in teaching and possess scientific knowledge. Salary to be commensurate with the position. Apply to the board of trustees of the museum.

With bids about to be opened for the $5,000,000 job of rehabilitating the Fine Arts building of world's fair glory, and plans being made for making it the finest industrial museum in the world, the next job for the trustees is the selection of a director. Following the English custom, an advertisement such as indicated above may be used to search this country for the best man available.

Mason Avoids the Job.

This search already has been going on quietly. Informal conversations, to use a diplomatic phrase, already have been entered into between representatives of the museum and President Max Mason of the University of Chicago, who represents the type of man wanted, and other men. Mr. Mason, however, has not taken the matter into serious consideration, feeling that his job is with the Midway Institution, which has made great material strides and taken a unique position in the educational world during his two years of office.

Some idea of the problem confronting the museum trustees is shown in a recent report of Frank O. Wetmore, chairman of the Commercial club industrial museum committee, on this subject.

"We have interviewed a number of men, but no choice has been made, and it is of the utmost importance to the welfare of the museum that the right man be found," he said.

Trustees of New Museum.

Trustees of the museum are William Rufus Abbott, Sewell L. Avery, Edward F. Carry, Rufus C. Dawes, T. E. Donnelly, John V. Farwell, Robert P. Lamont, Charles H. Markham, Charles Pies, Theodore W. Robinson, Julius Rosenwald, who has given $3,000,000 for the installation of the exhibits; Joseph T. Ryerson, Albert A. Sprague, Robert W. Stewart, Harold H. Swift, Charles H. Thorne, Mr. Wetmore, and L. F. Wormer.

President Edward J. Kelly of the south park board is cooperating with the trustees in the job of getting the museum ready for the second world's fair in 1933. Its greatest feature will be educational and it is planned to make the museum an integral part of the school and university life of this city. The museum has in sight a budget of about half a million a year.

CITY'S BUDGET $225,000,000 FOR THIS YEAR

Chicago will spend approximately $225,000,000 to operate the major branches of its municipal government in 1928. Budgets with appropriations totaling that amount were submitted to the city council by its finance committee yesterday.

Although the budgets did not cover all municipal activities, the appropriations recommended exceed by approximately $15,000,000 the total appropriations for 1927. The committee presented its recommendations for eleven branches of the city government. With the expected addition of three or four miscellaneous fund budgets the increase over the 1927 appropriations will probably reach $15,000,000.

Itemized List of Budgets.

The various items in the budgets follow:

Corporate fund	$59,170,000
Schools	90,600,000
Water fund	19,000,000
Vehicle tax fund	4,510,000
Bond funds	28,477,472
Municipal tuberculosis sanatorium	2,805,570

Calumet harbor fund..... 1,500,000
Public library..... 2,788,000
Fire pension fund..... 1,090,000
Police pension fund..... 3,587,000
Municipal employees' pension fund..... 2,160,000

In compiling the corporate fund budget, John S. Clark (47th), chairman, explained that the finance committee had turned down requests for new activities, salary increases, and other expenses amounting to $15,000,000. Some of these will go in a supplemental budget Feb. 1 if warranted by increased tax valuations, he said.

Within Revenues, Clark Says.

"We feel that we have done a good job on all the budgets," Clark told the council. "Each one is within the revenues and is being presented on the first working day of 1928."

Under the council rules, the budgets were deferred and published. Final action approving them will be taken at a special council meeting called for 10 a. m. Monday.

Youth, 19, Out of Work.

Dependence because of lack of employment is believed by police to be responsible for the suicide yesterday of John Batzka, 19 years old, 3522 West 60th street. His body was found by a neighbor hanging from a rafter in the garage at his home. The youth's mother told Chicago Lawn police that her son had worried continually of late because of his failure to find a job.

U.S. WAR EXPERTS SEEK TO PERFECT ARMY ON WHEELS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—[Special.]—Extensive experimentation with automotive and mechanical equipment designed to increase the mobility and striking power of infantry units will be carried on by the war department during the coming year, it was disclosed today.

Studies already made of new weapons, including the semi-automatic rifle, motorized equipment, light and heavy tanks, and other mechanical appliances, forecast radical changes in the organization not only of the infantry but of virtually every arm of the service.

Greater fire power, increased maneuvering speed both over hard roads and cross country, and the actual solving, under the hardest conditions of the problem, of whether motor trucks and motor equipment can be successfully substituted for animal drawn vehicles are some of the objects sought by the army high command.

those approved by this year's budget, newly developed weapons and all motorized and mechanical equipment at the command of the service, will be utilized during the next two years in providing sufficient equipment to completely motorize one infantry regiment and place it virtually on wheels.

Should this experimentation prove successful it is likely that most of the animal and animal drawn equipment in the American army would be scrapped when it wears out and new motorized material substituted in its stead. The present Springfield rifle would be replaced to a great extent by new semi-automatic rifles recently tested and found satisfactory by the heads of infantry, cavalry and ordnance departments. More light tanks armed with machine guns would be assigned to the infantry.

Soviet Officials Doomed to Die for Grain Deals

MOSCOW, Russia, Jan. 3.—[P-M.]—Polakov, commercial director of the grain department of the state bank, and his assistant, Tolstunov, have been sentenced by the high court to die. They were charged with giving secret commercial information to private merchants and selling them grain at more favorable terms than were given to state departments. A merchant named Perets and a middleman named Itakovskikh were sentenced to death and seven others were sentenced to imprisonment.

RESUME SEARCH FOR FACTS ABOUT MEXICAN PAPERS

Inquiring Senators Call
Sheffield to Testify.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—(AP)—New leads in the search into the authenticity of Mexican documents published in Hearst newspapers will be pursued tomorrow by the special senate committee at the resumption of public hearings.

The chief witnesses summoned are James R. Sheffield, former ambassador to Mexico, and Arthur Bliss Lane, now chief of the state department's Latin American division. Mr. Lane was first secretary of the American embassy in Mexico City at the time Miguel Avila procured for the Hearst interests the documents purporting to show that a Mexican fund of $1,215,000 had been provided for four United States senators.

Hearst has testified that the documents were submitted to Mr. Sheffield at the Mexican capital and there have been intimations before the committee that the American embassy, during Sheffield's administration, purchased other documents, represented as having come from official Mexican files.

Call Managing Editor.

A new phase of the inquiry will be opened up with the examination of David E. Smiley, former managing editor of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, and Robert Barry, at one time Washington correspondent for that newspaper. This has to do with reports that John Page, who instructed Avila to buy the documents for the Hearst papers, offered similar papers to the Public Ledger two years ago.

Further inquiry into the transmittal of messages between Mexican officials in this country and in Mexico City and a perusal of copies of any messages that may have been exchanged between Hearst representatives in the United States and Avila and Page at Mexico City and San Antonio, Tex., also will be made.

Hearst Orders Hand Off Policy.

The Washington Times prints a message from William R. Hearst to the editor which says:

"I wish you would kindly notify our people generally not to make any further efforts toward either proving or disproving the authenticity of the Mexican documents which we have published.

"We have given every possible aid to the committee, with the utmost sincerity and impartiality.

"We are willing to abide by the decision of the committee, whatever it may be, and to testify to the complete fairness of the committee and to its generous courtesy."

SEN DIVISION YETS ORGANIZE.

Secretary of State Louis B. Emerson yesterday issued a Springfield A. Charter for the 34th Street War Veterans Association. Headquarters are at Chicago. The incorporators are: H. A. Gann, H. H. Weimer, and George E. Clark.

SMOKE DAMAGE TO ART INSTITUTE CUT AS I. C. ELECTRIFIES

The volume of smoke and cinders that has fallen on the roof of the Art Institute, seeped into the building and defaced the costly paintings, statues, and fabrics, has been measurably reduced during the previous year, the records show. "Our trouble with the smoke nuisance was greatly reduced when the Illinois Central electrified its service," Mr. McCabe asserted. "We have been able to cut down on our staff of custodians and the work of preserving the objects of art has become less of a problem. The soot and smoke forms a thin coating on everything it comes in contact with, and is bound to result in disintegration. The reduction of the evil of smoke pollution is of great value to the Art Institute."

Although the Illinois Central's electrification has cut the year's accumulation of soot and cinders, smoke from the loop district is bound to leave its mark in the institute, Mr. McCabe said.

KELLOGG URGES ALL POWERS TO RENOUNCE WAR

Note to France Seeks Aid for Peace.

war and pledging its faith in arbitration.

Treaty's Scope Extended.
"It is firmly of the opinion," he said, "that every international enforcement of arbitration, and every treaty repudiating the idea of a resort to arms for the settlement of justiciable disputes, materially advances the cause of world peace."

"My views on this subject find a concrete expression in the form of the arbitration treaty which I have proposed in my note to you of Dec. 28, 1927, to take the place of the arbitration convention of 1908. The proposed treaty extends the scope of that convention and records the unmistakable determination of the two governments to prevent any breach in the friendly relations which have subsisted between them for so long a period."

Secretary Kellogg stated that identical arbitration treaties are being submitted to other powers having arbitration treaties with the United States which expire shortly.

BRIAND REPLIES

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Jan. 3.—Foreign Minister Briand's counter reply to Secretary of State Kellogg's answer to his proposals for a treaty between the United States and France to outlaw war was sent to Washington tonight by Qual d'Orsay.

The French foreign minister asks for clarification of certain details, especially as to what would happen if the United States senate refused to ratify an arbitration award.

Accepts Kellogg Draft.
M. Briand accepts Mr. Kellogg's draft as the basis for negotiations, to begin as soon as Ambassador Myron T. Herrick arrives, remarking that the whole arbitral procedure which the treaty aims to institute is threatened if America does not muzzle the upper house and bind itself to accept the judgment of the courts.

Mr. Kellogg's making the pact subject to the freedom of other powers to tune in on the Franco-American duet arouses no enthusiasm in M. Briand's response. He implies that his original proposal envisaged no such wholesale handclapping. He demurs on this but makes no serious objection, pointing out, however, that the treaty must not contain anything to render impossible France's execution of its obligations to the league of nations.

WITHDRAW BANK POOL TO AID WALB; INDIANA POLITICIANS IN CLASH

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 3.—[Special.]—Because of his indictment last week by a federal grand jury for violation of federal banking laws in connection with alleged manipulation of $75,000 alleged forged paper in the recently closed First National bank at LaGrange, friends and party leaders have abandoned plans for a $50,000 pool to aid the personal fortunes of Clyde Walb, Republican state chairman.

With the proviso that Walb resign as state chairman, thus necessitating a general reorganization of the state party machinery now controlled by United States Senator James E. Watson and Walb as his first lieutenant, the pool sponsors propose to prove the friends in need of Walb.

A leading sponsor of the pool was James P. Goodrich, former governor, and with Postmaster General Harry S. New, leader of the anti-Watson Indiana Republican faction.

Goodrich is anxious to gain domination of the Hoosier G. O. P. to aid the presidential candidacy of Herbert Hoover. Watson is pledged to Vice President Charles G. Dawes or to Frank O. Lowden.

Qual d'Orsay in studying today the proposals of Secretary Kellogg for a new arbitration treaty between the United States and France to replace the 1908 treaty expiring in February, found there exists in force between Washington and Paris a treaty which goes much further than that proposed by the secretary of state.

This treaty was signed by William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state under President Wilson, and Ambassador Jusserand on Sept. 15, 1914. It provides that after a primary period of five years it remains permanently in force until twelve months after it shall have been denounced by one of the contracting parties.

The treaty made by Bryan provides that all questions, "whatever they may be," which are not settled by ordinary diplomatic procedure and which are not arbitrated shall be submitted to an international commission.

DANDRUFF

Soon Destroys the Hair

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, when you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

CHINESE GENERAL SAVES 3 PRIESTS FROM KIDNAPERS

BY JOHN POWELL.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

SHANGHAI, Jan. 3.—Three Catholic priests, kidnaped three weeks ago near Yuchow, Honan province, were rescued by troops under Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang, the Christian general, and taken to safety to Gen. Feng's headquarters at Changchow, Honan province.

Two American missionaries, Al Benson and Nels Benson of St. Paul, Minn., wired THE TRIBUNE correspondent today that conditions are returning to normal in Honan province and the officials are inviting American missionaries to return to their stations and resume their duties, especially hospital work.

A group of French and Belgian envoys left Shanghai today for Honan province for the purpose of beginning the construction of an extension of the Lunghai railway, connecting Honan province with Sianfu, capital of Shensi province. The ultimate purpose is to extend the Lunghai railway to Lanchowfu, capital of Kansu province, and thence westward for a connection with the Russian rail system.

Shortens Route to Europe.

The Lunghai railway, which is known as the "short route to Europe," reaches the Yellow sea at Hsichow, south of Shantung peninsula, and when completed will bring the China coast within a week's travel of the European capitals. The road is being financed by French, Belgian, and Dutch capital, the three nations reported to be using the line.

The present resumption of construction is upon invitation of Gen. Feng, who controls most of the territory along the line.

Feng Promises Reforms.

Gen. Feng in a New Year's proclamation published here today declares it is his purpose to rid the territory of banditry, improve railway traffic, construct motor roads and install bus services, improve agriculture, open the sparsely populated northwestern China for the settlement of ex-soldiers, improve living conditions, and popularize education. Gen. Feng hopes to raise funds for the foregoing purposes from railway revenues and increased land tax.

Two Indictments Dismissed in Aurora Woman's Death

Indictments were dismissed in Geneva yesterday against John E. Blake, an Aurora real estate man, and Charles Kies, in connection with the killing of Miss Jennie Ellis, 35, an employee of Blake, who was stabbed to death in his home. Mrs. Mabel Smith, 35, who was also indicted, will stand trial alone for the killing. It was announced. Blake and Kies will be witnesses for the prosecution.

GIRL BURNED TO DEATH.

Centerville, Ill., Jan. 3.—Helen Pollard, 13, died at a hospital today of burns suffered Monday at her home in Odell, twelve miles northwest of here. The girl's father, Henry Pollard, was visiting her mother, who was a patient in a hospital, and Helen was alone at home. Her clothing caught fire from a stove.

Take Care of Your Kidneys!

Winter's Colds and Chills Throw Heavy Burdens on the Kidneys

ARE you getting over a cold or grip only to find yourself always lame and stiff—tired and aching? Are you bothered with nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizziness? Are the kidney secretions scanty and burning in passage? Then you should give some thought to your kidneys.

Colds and chills create poisons in the blood that bring extra work to the kidneys.

When the kidneys act sluggishly waste impurities remain in the blood and cause many unpleasant symptoms.

Following winter's colds many users rely on Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's increase the secretion of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Since 1885 they have been winning new friends the country over. Ask your neighbor!

CHICAGO WIDOW DIED IN SACK THAT WAS HER SHROUD

Not Killed by Blows, Inquest Determines.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 3.—[Special.]—Death as a result of lung congestion, caused by exposure after she had been beaten, sewed alive in a canvas bag, and tossed out on a lonely roadway to die, was the finding today of the coroner's jury investigating the murder of Mrs. Amelia Appleby, widow of a wealthy Chicago man.

The jury reported that Mrs. Appleby's death was directly caused by exposure brought about by persons unknown. Dr. Charles A. McMillan, who held without bail on a charge of suspicion of murder and who was business manager for Mrs. Appleby, was taken from the Los Angeles county jail to the morgue at San Fernando, where the inquest was held, but declined to testify.

Grand Jury Investigates.
Dr. McMillan persisted in his declaration when returned to Los Angeles, where the county grand jury took up the question of an indictment in the case.

Reports from the undertaker and the county autopsy surgeon stated that Mrs. Appleby's nose had been broken prior to her death and that she had been beaten about the chest with a blunt instrument, but there were no evidences of a fatal blow. The woman died a death of torture and smothering with her hands strapped across her chest and her ankles bound together and twisted backward until her legs were drawn toward her back, the medical reports indicated.

A laborer, whose dog found the body in the death sack in a ditch near San Fernando, on Dec. 24, was a witness at both inquiries.

Neighbor Is Witness.
So was Charles Whittier, who lived across the street from the bungalow in which Mrs. Appleby was last seen on Dec. 22. Whittier testified that he saw Mrs. Appleby in Dr. McMillan's company on Dec. 22. Deputy Sheriff David Croushorn testified to finding Dr. McMillan, in his apartment, pouring over Mrs. Appleby's papers, on Dec. 30, the day that the woman's body was identified. Dr. McMillan told him at that time that he had removed the papers from Mrs. Appleby's house when she went on a trip, the officer testified.

George P. McNally, Wilmington, Cal., real estate agent, was a witness. McNally had told officers of a conversation with Mrs. Appleby about a month ago, in which he said Mrs. Appleby told him she had refused Dr. McMillan's proposal of marriage and the doctor was said to have grown so angry that Mrs. Appleby expressed fear.

Late tonight McMillan admitted to deputy sheriffs that the $50,000 worth of jewelry found in his apartment was owned by Mrs. Appleby, but as he was taken back to his cell he said, "If God strikes me dead in the next thirty seconds I did not kill Amelia Appleby."

BANDIT HOLDS UP THEATER OWNER, FLEES WITH $2,100

Saul Greenberg, assistant manager of the Alcyon theater in Highland Park, was asleep on a cot in the theater office yesterday when a masked man entered. The stranger was supplied with keys that opened all the doors.

After compelling Greenberg to tell him the combination to the safe, which held three days' receipts, the robber took his victim to a washroom and locked him in. Greenberg pleaded that it was cold and the robber handed him a blanket and a pillow. He then looted the safe of $2,100 and departed. Greenberg was released by a janitor at 7:30 a. m.

GORMAN BLAMES EXCESS POLITICS FOR WATER ROW

Defends Chlorine Dosage as Health Measure.

The health of thousands of Chicagoans was at stake when Arthur E. Gorman, chief sanitarian for the city water department, recently treated the water supply with a heavy dosage of chlorine, he declared in a statement yesterday.

In a controversy which has arisen over the causes for offensive tastes in the water several days ago Mr. Gorman was suspended from office upon the recommendation of a special investigating commission appointed by Mayor Thompson.

Gorman to Demand Trial.

Assailing as political the motives which led to his suspension, Mr. Gorman announced he would insist on a trial and would put up a fight to the bitter end. He would not accept the recommendation of a special investigating commission appointed by Mayor Thompson.

In the four years of his service in safeguarding the city's water supply, the typhoid death rate has dropped to almost nothing, the finest record of any large city in the world, Mr. Gorman asserted.

The city council yesterday passed an ordinance officially creating the commission to seek a remedy from the taint in the water. It was caused, the ordinance stated, by the discharge of phenol and other wastes by industries and cities in the Indiana-Calumet river region, and authority was given the commission to use whatever means are deemed proper, a suit in the courts if necessary, to compel the Indiana cities to withdraw their sewage from Lake Michigan.

Members of the commission are Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, commissioner of health, Richard W. Wolfe, commissioner of public works, Corporation Counsel Etzelson, the chairman of the council finance committee, and one other alderman.

The state health department, after consulting with Dr. Kegel, joined in the demand for protection, and dispatched a letter to the Indiana state board of health, requesting information as to what steps have been taken to treat the sewage of its lake cities.

Mr. Gorman in his statement declared he had been warned by City Engineer Loran D. Gayton that his rights as a civil service employee would be thrown aside by the administration if he refused to resign.

"My only information as to the reason for my suspension was the newspapers, which, much to my surprise, reported that the basis for the action is the contention of Health Commissioner Kegel that the offensive taste in the public water supply during the last few days was due to the alleged unnecessary over-chlorination."

Health Not Political.

"When the health of 3,000,000 people is at stake and the sole means of protection is a sufficient and continuous application of chlorine in the water supply, it is no time during an emergency to speculate as to the political reaction to follow control measures when it is known from experience what is the right thing to do."

BREVITY BRINGS REBUKE IN CASE OF COURT RULING

Judge Wilkerson One of the Reprimanded.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—[Special.]—Federal Judges Evan A. Evans, James H. Wilkerson, and Adam C. Cliffe were rebuked by the United States Supreme court today for failing to so elaborate one of their opinions as to prevent an unnecessary appeal.

The three judges sitting en banc upheld an order of the interstate commerce commission requiring the Cleveland, Cincinnati, and St. Louis railway to install a switch connecting with a private line owned and operated by the J. K. Dering company to handle coal from its mines in central Illinois.

Their finding was upheld today, but the Supreme court opinion, written by Justice Brandeis, points out in a review of the proceedings in the District court and in the Circuit court of Appeals, that "the District court did not make the findings of fact, render an opinion or indicate by recital in the decree the grounds of its decision."

In concluding the opinion, Justice Brandeis, after holding "all the contentions of the Big Four are clearly unfounded" and "the District court properly refused to grant a stay of the commission's order," continued:

"It is difficult to believe that an appeal would have been persisted in if that court had delivered an opinion setting forth its reasons for dismissing the bill. Where the trial court omits to state the grounds of its decision, the appellate court is denied an important aid in consideration of the case and the defeated party is often unable to determine whether the case presents a question worthy of consideration by the appellate court. Thus, both the litigants and this court are subjected to unnecessary labor."

MISS FRANKS ONE OF FIRST TO TAKE 1928 WEDDING VOW

Josephine Franks, 21, daughter of Jacob Franks, received one of the first 1928 marriage licenses in Chicago, it was revealed yesterday. Her marriage to Richard J. Glaser, 32, of the Shopton hotel took place Monday night at the Drake hotel a few hours after Robert M. Swetzel, county clerk, had personally issued a license at his office in the county building.

A civil and religious ceremony was performed, the first by Probate Judge Henry Horner and the second by the Rev. Harry A. Dalzell of the Fourth Presbyterian church. Afterwards a wedding supper was served at the Drake.

The bridegroom is associated with his brother, Leon Glaser, 5520 South Shore drive, in the Glaser-Crandall company. The bride is a sister of Bobbie Franks, who was slain by Nathan Leopold and Frank Loeb.

TRAIN VICTIM IS UNIDENTIFIED.

An unidentified man, apparently a laborer, was killed by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train at Kilde and Ordway avenues yesterday. The body was taken to the county morgue.

Health Not Political.

When the health of 3,000,000 people is at stake and the sole means of protection is a sufficient and continuous application of chlorine in the water supply, it is no time during an emergency to speculate as to the political reaction to follow control measures when it is known from experience what is the right thing to do."

Don't Neglect that COUGH

It never pays to neglect a cough. It does not pay, either, to try to stop it with a remedy which your doctor might not approve.

PERTUSSIN is a proven remedy that has been prescribed successfully for twenty years in the treatment of harmful coughs, including whooping cough.

PERTUSSIN soothes the cough spasms, helps to clear the air passages of sticky, germ-laden mucus and reduces the inflammation. It is entirely free from injurious or habit-forming drugs.

LAKE STATES TO GET 33 DAYS TO FILE EXCEPTIONS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—[Special.]—Orders entered by the United States Supreme court today allowed the lake states, which seek to enjoin the diversion of Lake Michigan water at Chicago, thirty-three days in which to prepare and file briefs supporting their exceptions to the findings of Charles Evans Hughes, the court's special master in the lake level controversy.

Thereafter, under the orders, the Chicago sanitary district and the state of Illinois, defending the water withdrawal for sanitary purposes, are to have twenty days in which to respond with reply briefs. As a result, it is practically certain that three months will elapse before the court hears oral arguments in the case.

James M. Beck, special counsel for the sanitary board, urged the court to decide the issue before its June adjournment.

DOC COOK MUST SERVE HIS TERM, HIGH COURT SAYS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3.—[Special.]—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, arctic explorer, who hoaxed the world with his claim to discovery of the north pole, unless regularly pardoned, must complete the 14 year sentence for using the mails to defraud.

Cook was convicted in a Texas federal court in November, 1923, of using the mails in a fraudulent oil land scheme and was sentenced to serve 14 years in the penitentiary. In 1925 Cook began serving the sentence, and in February, 1927, the district judge who tried him ordered him paroled.

The Supreme court declared that it was beyond the power of a district judge to grant probation when the convicted person had begun to serve the sentence, asserting that "the beginning of the service of the sentence in a criminal case ends the power of the court even in the same term to change it."

Concentration

PROFITS!

THE only reason for being in business is your annual net profit—the artistic successes don't count. Immense volume means nothing if it results in insignificant net return. Wide-spread distribution should mean more than declining earnings or else pride is hurting your pocketbook. The time has come for American industry to "take stock" of its narrowing margins.

Buried deep in a Treasury Department report are figures which trace the downward trend of capital's compensation. Compiled from 430,000 corporation tax returns, these statistics may be considered to represent an accurate average of gross profits. In 1923 the average gross on sales in all lines of business was 23.7%. In 1924 the average slumped to 17.8% and 1925 saw it drop still further to 16.1%.

Alarming figures? Scarcely so alarming as they appear, however, to executives who sense the losses directly attributable to misdirected sales and advertising campaigns. They know the logical solution is through reduced distributing costs. If the clothing manufacturer, for instance, can cut 1% from his selling costs he can increase his net profit 17%. They know the United States is no longer a land of equal plenty. Today profitable business is concentrating on the right prospects in the right markets.

The Dartnell Corporation recently conducted a nation-wide survey of the methods pursued by 4,019 representative concerns to insure greater profits. At the close of this report, which is shown below, this summary appears... "many concerns report they have been able to decrease sales cost from 2% to more than 14% and to maintain their present volume, or to increase it from 5% to 15%, by concentrating their sales efforts in their most productive territories and on their most profitable lines." No more striking example of the right market for concentration could be found than the Chicago territory in which The Tribune is the dominant advertising force—the prosperous five-state area which is the heart of buying America. Chicago-land draws its wealth from varied sources—from farms, from mines, from forests, from factories. Here is the wealthiest trading zone in America, offering a ready market to the makers of every product. 50,000,000 prosperous people live within a night's ride of this commercial capital.

Decline in percentages of gross profit on sales in all lines of business in the United States

Of all the world's main markets, Chicago alone commands a vast empire of trade without a neighboring metropolitan rival.

Concentrate your selling appeal to The Chicago Tribune and you reach a focused market with a spending power of sixteen billion dollars annually. In Chicago and suburbs alone The Daily Tribune has a greater circulation than the total of any other Chicago week-day newspaper. In Zone 7, outside of Chicago, in 204 important trading centers 42% of all the families read The Sunday Tribune and respond to its advertisers. The Sunday Tribune alone can offer you a major response from trade and consumers in 547 towns of 1,000 population and more throughout Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Concentrated buying power is profit power—put The Tribune's economical, dominant influence to work in your business during 1928.

Paulist Choir Is Musical Feature of Evening.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.
A broadcast that commanded attention last evening was the inaugural program of a weekly broadcast by the National League of Women Voters from New York through W-G-N, 6:30 to 7. The program policy is non-partisan.

Nationally known speakers, both men and women, made the speech making program impressive, and the musical program by the Paulist choir, New York City, was the most important musical event of the evening.

Their programs consisted of French, Flemish, and English carols. I am sure those who heard this broadcast must have admired the finished effect of the combined voices of this choir which was directed by Father William, whose first musical history was made at St. Mary's Paulist church, Chicago.

A program of English folk songs and modern English songs and quartet numbers was given by the mixed quartet of the St. James Methodist Episcopal church, from WMAQ, 8:30 to 10. This program started out well, with excellent singing of that old rondo, "Summer Is a Comin' In," followed by many enticing quartet numbers. It was a long program, with many, almost too many, solos.

It would be difficult to imagine a man by the name of Joe Cook as being serious, and he is not. Anyhow, this dry humorist was the microphone ceremonialist on the weekly Tuesday evening New York broadcast through W-G-N. He was surrounded by a peach of an orchestra, but Joe was the show. When he sang he was terrible, and his stuff was junk. But he is funny and as an announcer he is an artist.

I had not heard the Salerno brothers of W-G-N staff for months until last night. This program has shown much improvement. A harpist, a skillful one at that, has been added to the bill, and this fits in nicely. If they were not deceiving, I also heard harp solos from KTW and WENR during the evening. A harp is always good to hear.

Italy to Raise Tiberius' Rich Party Gallies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
ROME, Jan. 3.—Another window is expected to be opened into the past, and the opulence of imperial Rome under Tiberius because of a convention signed today for raising two famous galleys sunk twenty centuries ago in the waters of the beautiful Lake Nemi near Rome, where Tiberius held parties.

The galleys are known to contain rich treasures—sculpture, vases and precious stones. The project for recovering them has been urged by archaeologists for centuries. Premier Benito Mussolini today completed a deal with the Italian government, which the engineers will pump the water from Lake Nemi into Lake Albano, whose level is twenty meters lower than that of Lake Nemi. The cost of the project will be borne by the Italian government, which will assume all the expenses. The two Roman ships are buried in the mud about twelve meters under the lake's surface, beneath Mussolini's project to be present at the inauguration of the draining work in a few days.

It is expected the ships, which it is believed were sunk during one of the barbarian invasions in order to protect the treasures, will give an insight into the wealth of Rome in the time of Christ.

Elmer Approves Women Voters' Radio Program

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

A broadcast that commanded attention last evening was the inaugural program of a weekly broadcast by the National League of Women Voters from New York through W-G-N, 6:30 to 7. The program policy is non-partisan.

Nationally known speakers, both men and women, made the speech making program impressive, and the musical program by the Paulist choir, New York City, was the most important musical event of the evening.

Their programs consisted of French, Flemish, and English carols. I am sure those who heard this broadcast must have admired the finished effect of the combined voices of this choir which was directed by Father William, whose first musical history was made at St. Mary's Paulist church, Chicago.

A program of English folk songs and modern English songs and quartet numbers was given by the mixed quartet of the St. James Methodist Episcopal church, from WMAQ, 8:30 to 10. This program started out well, with excellent singing of that old rondo, "Summer Is a Comin' In," followed by many enticing quartet numbers. It was a long program, with many, almost too many, solos.

It would be difficult to imagine a man by the name of Joe Cook as being serious, and he is not. Anyhow, this dry humorist was the microphone ceremonialist on the weekly Tuesday evening New York broadcast through W-G-N. He was surrounded by a peach of an orchestra, but Joe was the show. When he sang he was terrible, and his stuff was junk. But he is funny and as an announcer he is an artist.

I had not heard the Salerno brothers of W-G-N staff for months until last night. This program has shown much improvement. A harpist, a skillful one at that, has been added to the bill, and this fits in nicely. If they were not deceiving, I also heard harp solos from KTW and WENR during the evening. A harp is always good to hear.

Italy to Raise Tiberius' Rich Party Gallies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
ROME, Jan. 3.—Another window is expected to be opened into the past, and the opulence of imperial Rome under Tiberius because of a convention signed today for raising two famous galleys sunk twenty centuries ago in the waters of the beautiful Lake Nemi near Rome, where Tiberius held parties.

The galleys are known to contain rich treasures—sculpture, vases and precious stones. The project for recovering them has been urged by archaeologists for centuries. Premier Benito Mussolini today completed a deal with the Italian government, which the engineers will pump the water from Lake Nemi into Lake Albano, whose level is twenty meters lower than that of Lake Nemi. The cost of the project will be borne by the Italian government, which will assume all the expenses. The two Roman ships are buried in the mud about twelve meters under the lake's surface, beneath Mussolini's project to be present at the inauguration of the draining work in a few days.

It is expected the ships, which it is believed were sunk during one of the barbarian invasions in order to protect the treasures, will give an insight into the wealth of Rome in the time of Christ.

FIGHTING BISHOP FOILS MEXICO'S REBEL HUNTERS

Agents Unable to Fasten Revolt on Orozco.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
[Copyright, 1928, By The Chicago Tribune.]
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 3.—The most mysterious character in Mexico today is Archbishop Francisco Orozco y Jimenez of Guadalajara. He has the added prestige of being the only member of the Catholic hierarchy who has succeeded in remaining in Mexico one year and a half after all the bishops and archbishops were sent out of the country by presidential decree, charged with inciting insurrection and plotting against the peace of Mexico. [From 1912 to 1917, during which he was an exile from Mexico,

Archbishop Orozco lived in Wilmette as the guest of Mrs. Thomas Shannon, who was then at St. Xavier's church.]
Archbishop Orozco is called the "fighting priest," probably because of his record in younger days when he was actually in arms and spent considerable time in the insurrectionary camp. Unnumbered stories have been circulated during the last year and a half of his revolutionary activities.

Called Revolt Leader.

He has been reported as leading Catholic insurrectionary bands, of being the leading spirit in the insurgent camps in the states of Jalisco, Guanajuato, Durango, Colima, Michoacan and Queretaro, and is credited with other colorful deeds.

Archbishop Orozco has been reported as leading hosts into battle against the most powerful organizations of the federal army and of inspiring his Catholic followers to deeds of heroism. Indian story tellers have pictured him as slaughtering whole hosts of soldiers as their Indian ancestors did. Educated whites and mestizos still credit him with having built up a secret organization that not only covers all Mexico but embraces the whole Catholic world. He is popularly believed to be pulling the strings of the far-reaching machinery that has kept the Catholic revolt alive for two years. What he is doing now is unknown, except to a very small inner circle.

the entrance to which is more guarded than admittance to the most secret of all secret organizations and protected by an unbreakable oath to obligations taken to defend and protect the only member of the Catholic hierarchy in Mexico unto death; for in Archbishop Orozco is embodied the whole Catholic cause.

The "fighting bishop" was reported, when I was in Guadalajara eight months ago, to have left Mexico and to be living incognito in Los Angeles. In other quarters I was assured he had gone, on special invitation of the government, to Catholic Bolivia, from whence he was organizing the Catholic world into a world-wide boycott against Mexico.

Federal Agents Foiled.

Notwithstanding all these reported activities of Archbishop Orozco, government agents have not been able to pin on him any specific acts, any connection with the revolt; nor has his presence in the revolutionary bands on even one occasion ever been proved. To the secret agents, he is a bodyguard of sixty young men sworn to defend the archbishop even unto death, according to the statement of a prominent Catholic in Guadalajara, watches over the safety of Archbishop Orozco day and night. They take turns in guarding him. He is never allowed to remain long in one place and no one is admitted to his presence except those who belong to the inner circle. He might be in town for days and the town not know it.

The circle sworn to defend the archbishop keeps tabs on the movement of all federal and other troops in the neighborhood of the town or village in which he is temporarily residing, so that it is impossible for troops to come upon him without his having had timely warning. These friends of the archbishop also make it their business to know all the secret police agents and to keep track of their movements.

Denies Orozco Heads Revolt.

"I do not know where Archbishop Orozco y Jimenez is," said a prominent Catholic, "but I do know that he is not in any of the states where government secret agents are looking for him. He has never been in any of the towns and villages where the Catholic revolt is kept alive against the government, and he has never been at the head of any revolutionary band. The revolt is not being engineered by him; it is in the hands of a revolutionary junta. Archbishop Orozco y Jimenez's presence in Mexico obeys the necessities of Catholic hierarchy keeps in touch with Mexico."

In government circles I was given to understand that Archbishop Orozco, if he falls into the hands of the police, will follow the rest of the Catholic hierarchy into exile.

MEXICAN DIVORCE TO BE TESTED IN SABATH'S COURT

Whether Mexican divorce decrees shall be recognized by Illinois courts is to be decided tomorrow by Superior Judge Joseph Sabath. Charles A. Stoll, former president of the Lord Rug Corporation, volunteered yesterday to submit to the jurisdiction of the court.

He is being sued for separate maintenance by Mrs. Hattie J. Stoll, 5153 North Robey street, who was defendant in his divorce suit. He was re-married after obtaining the Mexican decree last August, and with his bride has remained outside the jurisdiction of the Cook county court where his first wife sued.

Attorney Benjamin B. Davis, counsel for Hattie Stoll is asking the court to ignore the proceedings in Nogales on the contention that they were instituted by Mr. Stoll to circumvent the laws of Illinois.

If the court agrees with Attorney Davis, the ruling will not only invalidate Mr. Stoll's divorce but also his marriage to Mrs. Eva Barnum Stoll.

SAYS HE BEAT HER DAILY.

Mrs. Roberta Baskin, 2571 South Irving avenue, won a divorce yesterday before Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch on her testimony that her husband, Arthur, beat her almost every day of their eight months of married life.

LA SALLE follows CADILLAC In Lower Prices on the Entire La Salle Line

By marketing more than 15,000 cars in nine months LaSalle has reached the goal set for it as a full year's achievement when Cadillac created this beautiful companion car.

The Cadillac company planned, by giving beauty and value in excess of all previous standards, to win for the eight-cylinder La Salle a market larger than so fine a car had ever been able to command before.

The purpose in this was precisely the same as the policy which has always governed Cadillac and recently resulted in new and lower Cadillac prices—to command by lavish value—giving a demand so great for the La Salle Eight that economies and efficiencies would automatically ensue which would make it possible to lower prices on the entire La Salle line.

WHEAT CLOSES HIGHER DESPITE PROFIT TAKING

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat market showed a firm understanding from the start yesterday, and with fair commission house and local buying prices at the outside showed around 1½¢ over Saturday's finish, but profit taking and selling against offers caused a recession from the best figure and the close was at net gains of 1/16¢, with March 1.30 1/16¢ and

May 1.31 1/16¢. Corn advanced early with wheat, only to ease when local professionals, who bought on the way up, started to sell, and the close was 1/16¢ lower, with March 84 1/16¢ and May 85 1/16¢. Oats advanced unchanged to 1/16¢, and rye up

1/16¢ for the day.

Strength in Liverpool wheat cables had some effect on local sentiment and there was a more friendly feeling toward the exporting side. Offerings were light on the way up, and sellers of offers had to protect themselves. There was also buying credited to foreign and to northwestern account. Winnipeg failed to follow the full advance, and had when effect here toward the late, although that market gained 1/16¢. Liverpool was up 1/16¢ to 1/16¢ with a fair cash demand. Buenos Aires gained 1/16¢ for the day, and was 1/16¢ higher than Friday's close.

Local bulls were good buyers of corn at times, partly on the strength in wheat, and on further talk of export demand, but commission houses sold on the bulge, and later some of the early buyers were on the selling side and the market declined 1/16¢ from the ported as set off by

Action of corn was the dominating influence in the oats market, with shorts taking hold on the recessions, while logs sold on the bulge. Visible supply increased 80,000 bu for the week, and to 1,237,000 bu, or 2,134,000 bu less than last year. Rye was firmer with wheat, and there were reports of a moderate export business at the seaboard, although quantities sold were not given.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

The United Kingdom was a good buyer of Manitoba wheat, both from the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and sales in all positions were fairly brisk. There were bids in the market from Europe for wheat, corn and rye, but were mainly out of line. Domestic shipping sales here were 18,000 bu of wheat, 100,000 bu of corn, and 50,000 bu of rye, all sold to go to stores.

WORLD HAS GONE TO WORK, BALES OF DATA INDICATE

BY HARPER LEECH.

There is a new and gratifying note in the bales of statistical reviews which come tumbling on this desk with the beginning of the working year. Reiteration of mounting totals of production and consumption is no longer such an American monologue as formerly.

The world has really gone to work. Note this: We Americans got along in 1927 with 55,000,000 tons of coal less than we mined in 1925 and scarcely felt the reduction because of our improved technique of combustion. But the coal mining world at large seems to have lifted 3 per cent more coal to the surface last year than in 1925, the year in which pre-war world production was again attained.

We can safely estimate steel production abroad at 25 per cent in excess of production in either 1925 or 1926—the world at large is 20 per cent ahead of pre-war records in steel making, according to the National Bank of Commerce of New York.

Those who have been expecting the world to swing into a long period of solid welfare, declining prices and substantial progress in the technique of production and the consumption of goods by the masses, such as followed the Napoleonic wars, have much to indicate to them that their expectations are now taking form as fact.

Not the least of the favorable aspects of the world situation is the fact that money is now real money over the greater part of the planet's area.

Almost everywhere trading has become trading again—it has ceased to be betting. Considering the juggling with money which followed the war, the real wonder seems to be that the world has really gotten on its feet, not that it has been so long on the road to sanity and commercial security.

Not only has the gold standard been restored nearly everywhere it ever existed—the beginnings of a system of international credit control to stabilize even gold itself are evident. It may take a century to work this thing out, but it is on the way. The vast majority of civilized men today appear to have had enough of confusion in all forms whether by taxation, "socialization," or quicksand money.

Says John E. Rovensky, first vice president of the Bank of America: "History teaches us that financial evils in this country have been cured quite promptly—as human events are measured—once the general public became aware of their existence. How were these evils finally remedied? It was through the effort of men who came forward with plans to scrap the entire machinery existing at the time and substitute a new, fully equipped apparatus of their own design.

Experience teaches us that in a democ-

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Pig raising in this country has had its ups and downs in the last few years that it is not the number of pigs farrowed but the number of pigs saved that counts. There were only four per cent more pigs farrowed last fall than a year ago but the number of pigs saved was much greater. Weather probably had more to do with that than anything else.

Hog owners cannot control the weather but they can control the pigs and keep them comfortable by housing them in warm, dry quarters. Vegetable growers do not wait for summer when it is not warm enough for plants to be safe outdoors; they build greenhouses, hot beds and cold frames and make summer conditions for the plants. Pig raisers can do the same thing and at a much lower cost by building simple houses.

Farmers have been counting "anous lately and their reports indicate that there will be more pigs to house and take care of this spring than last year. This increase will come on top of an 11 per cent increase in the fall pig crop, which means that more pig apartments will have to be provided in hogdom.

Foster and Carroll of the University of Illinois, Urbana, say pigs can be kept healthier, building costs are less for the same number of hogs, shelter for more pigs can be built with the same amount of money, and fire risks are reduced when movable hog houses are used instead of large concrete houses. Their new circular, No. 23, is ready to be sent free to Illinois farmers. Every hog raiser in the corn belt should have a copy. Standard types of houses are described and illustrated in the new circular which also contains bills of material and construction directions for different types of houses.

Money such as ours the public must be educated as to the nature of the existing evil, its importance and its curability and as knowledge on this subject becomes sufficiently universal, remedial measures can be put through the public generally accepts the fact that the purchasing power of money is unstable and a great majority regard this as an evil. As we increase the percentage of people who understand what stabilization means, the evil will gradually be remedied.

Title & Trust Reports

Decrease in Earnings

A decrease in the net earnings of the Chicago Title & Trust company for 1927 is shown in the annual report issued yesterday. Net after all charges totaled $4,623,129, equal to $38.53 a share on 120,000 shares of outstanding capital stock compared with $5,018,539 or $41.78 a share in 1926. During the year the company transferred $1,000,000 to the surplus account and $900,000 to special reserve. The company paid $2,520,000 in dividends. Total assets were $27,529,025 and undivided profits were $289,859.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Jan. 3.—[Special.]—The stock market was steady to strong today. The turnover was almost 2,418,000 shares, indicating that operations were resumed with undiminished vigor after the prolonged holiday.

Judging by closing quotations the market was one of great irregularity, with operators for the advance holding a decided advantage and bidding up everything that was susceptible. The favored trading vehicles were Montgomery Ward, Hudson Motors, Radio Corporation and United States Rubber. It was noticeable that noninvestment stocks, such as Greene Cananea Copper, American International, Beechum Packing, Coty, and Goodrich were the fastest sellers.

Reinvestment Demand Lacking. The widely heralded reinvestment demand did not make its appearance today. It was assumed that traders and investors had chosen to defer profit taking beyond the year-end because they wished to have their profits registered in 1928. Profit taking of the week before necessarily would have to be shown in their income tax reports for 1927. Brokerage interests predicted that there would be considerable selling this week and perhaps next week on this theory.

Once more the market appeared to move by groups and in only a few cases was there any deviation from this course. Even the low priced and usually dormant issues in some of the groups were active and indicated the fact that attention was being paid them.

Motors, Coppers, Rubbers Wanted. At the moment the motor, copper and rubber shares are the best in public demand and the unit of stocks in these groups cling together in good fashion.

Each group has its own leader. Hudson Motors closed at 85 1/2, for a net gain of 2 1/2 points. Montgomery Ward finished the day at 121, up 3 1/2 points. Packard Motors, closing at 63, was up 1 point. Radio Corporation registered a net gain of 2 1/2 points, closing at 92 1/2. U. S. Rubber, at 61 1/2, was up 4 1/2 points on the day's trading.

United States Steel lost fractionally, closing at 15 1/2. General Motors also was off 1/4 point, finishing the session at 17 1/2.

Although the call money rate held at 5 1/2 per cent all day, there was a distinctly easier undertone developed, which was reflected in outside loans made at 6 per cent.

CHICAGO COTTON TRADE INCREASED SIX FOLD

Interest in cotton in Chicago has increased more than six fold in the last year, with sales of 12,174,000 bales in 1927, compared with 2,041,000 bales in 1926. Large orders are being executed daily, and there is a good sized spreading interest between this and the other markets. The report on clearing by the clearing house manager, Karl H. Reinberg, shows that trading during September was 3,616,000 bales, the largest of the year, as compared with 253,800 bales in 1925.

A heavy selling movement in all markets in which the south took a liberal hand brought out free liquidation by long yesterday, which continued about all day. The close was around the inside. There were net losses of 56,687 points in futures in Chicago and 51,670 points in other markets. Spots lost 60 points in New Orleans to 19.35c, with New York off 55 points to 19.35c. Houston 19.30c, and Galveston 19.40c. Liverpool was 104 1/2 points net lower at the close, with sales 10c.

Pressing weather over the south was reported as beneficial, as it is believed it will kill the weevil. Sales in Fall River last week were 40,000 pieces of cloth, a fair increase. Prices follow:

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Heavy trading and rising prices today created the new year in the curb market. Low priced issues were in the lead, with particularly heavy dealings in Canadian Marconi, Brooklyn City Railway, Crooks Syndicate, and the Sevel new stocks. American Rolling Mills again struck at the situation of operators for the advance, and Standard was bid up 4 points. Other former favorites which moved toward higher ground included Panatier Products, General Bussan, Campbell-Wyatt, and Cuneo Press. U. S. L. Battery, International Clear Machinery, and Alabama Great Southern all exceeded their 1927 peaks.

Public utilities derived strength from further evidence of continued prosperity in that industry. American Gas and Electric common and preferred, Standard Power and Light, and American Light and Traction were in brisk demand, and Electric Bond and Share advanced a point before reacting on realizing. Petroleum issues generally moved forward. Standard of Kentucky and Marcellus Oil gained about 3 points each, and Gulf Oil advanced about a point, later losing all its gain.

Newmont Mining, selling ex dividend, fell back nearly 5 points, but subsequently made up most of the loss. Deere & Co., the Celanese and Celluloid issues, Lefcourt Realty preferred, and McColl corporation also were heavy.

The bond market displayed little change from the quiet irregularity which characterized the last few sessions of 1927. A few industrial securities held the spotlight, chief among which were Dodge Bros. Co., which were taken in large amounts and sold at a time more than a month above Saturday's closing price. Barnard & Co., which carry stock warrants, were in rather brisk demand. Expectations of an early decision by the interstate commerce commission on reorganization plans were responsible for continued strength in the St. Paul issues. Seaboard and Delaware and Hudson also received good support.

Changes in the foreign division were fractional and of a mixed order. A rally of 25 points in Spanish pesetas to around 17.15 cents was the only change of consequence in the foreign exchange market. Sterling cables were slightly easier around $4.85 1/2, and Canadian exchange continued at a discount of 11-1/4 of 1 per cent, making further gold imports likely.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Stockholders of Loews, Inc., approved the amendment to the certificate of incorporation providing for authorization of 800,000 shares of preferred stock without par value to be issued in one or more series. The 150,000 shares sold to December 31, 1927, and 100,000 shares to be issued. Stockholders also approved the recommendation to change the present authorized $4,000,000 of capital shares to common shares.

John B. Thompson Co., during 1928 will embark upon a large expansion program, opening a considerable number of new restaurants, but will have no need to borrow funds to carry this through, it was declared by John B. Thompson Jr., president of the company.

New York Central railroad is expected shortly to place orders for 300,000 tie plates and other equipment requirements in the Pittsburgh and of the Pullman company for the first eleven months of 1927 rose to $10,293,796 from $9,319,577 in the corresponding 1926 period. November operating income was $511,455 in contrast to a deficit of $73,393 a year ago.

SUN FINANCE BUILDING

Los Angeles

First Mortgage Fee and Leasehold 6% Serial Coupon Gold Bonds

Dated January 1, 1928.

Maturity 4 to 16 years.

In the following statements regarding this bond issue we summarize a letter from the mortgage corporation.

SECURITY UNDER MORTGAGE

These bonds are the direct obligation of the Sun Finance & Investment Co. and are secured by a direct closed first mortgage lien on land owned in fee and the leasehold estate in land and the building below described.

The Sun Finance Building, one of the notable structures of the Los Angeles central business district, erected in 1920, is of reinforced concrete, full fireproof construction, 12 stories and basement.

The land is located at the southwest corner of Sixth and Olive Streets, comprising 25,750 square feet. Approximately 81% of this area is owned in fee. That portion immediately at the corner of Sixth and Olive Streets is held under a 99-year ground lease dated July 31, 1919.

The building is 95% occupied and holds a preferred location in one of the best retail districts of the city. Approximately one-half of the office space is leased until July, 1931, to the State of California for Department Branch Offices.

VALUATION AND EARNINGS

The value of the mortgaged property is appraised as follows by well-known and responsible Los Angeles appraisers:

	MR. J. C. SWAN	METCALF & RYAN
Building	$2,100,000	$2,000,000
Land in Fee	2,244,700	2,584,000
Leasehold Estate	300,000
Total Valuation	$4,644,700	$4,584,000

This bond issue, therefore, represents less than 60% of the appraised value of the mortgaged security.

The net operating income for the year ending Oct. 31, 1927, as reported by Haskins & Sells, Certified Public Accountants, was $269,611.45, available for payments required under this bond issue. This is $104,611.45 in excess of the greatest annual interest charge hereunder. This revenue is expected to be increased by an estimated 20 per cent on expiration of certain leases.

We offer these bonds as a sound and safely secured investment. Call, telephone or write for descriptive circular L150.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF ILLINOIS, TRUSTEE

Mr. W. G. Pascoe, President of the Company, summarizes in regard to this issue as follows:

Business Biflex Products Company, a Delaware corporation, was organized in 1921, succeeding an Illinois corporation of the same name organized in 1919, to manufacture and market the well-known Biflex cushion bumper and other automotive accessories. In 1924 the Biflex Products Company acquired a substantial majority of the stock of the L. P. Halladay Company of Decatur, Ill., one of the oldest manufacturers of automobile bumpers in the country. Coinciding with this financing Biflex Products Company is acquiring outright all of the assets of the L. P. Halladay Company.

In addition to manufacturing a complete line of bumpers, the Company has undertaken the manufacture and distribution of other important automotive accessories which represent a distinct contribution to the development of this industry, having been adopted by the Company after thorough analysis of market requirements and exhaustive tests. The Company is the sole distributor of an electric windshield wiper which, in addition to widespread acceptance in the jobbing and replacement business, is now being used as standard equipment by the world's largest manufacturer of low-priced cars. The Biflex bumper, universally recognized as of the foremost quality and the most widely distributed of all bumpers, is used exclusively or in part as factory equipment by such cars as Lincoln, Stearns Knight, Pierce Arrow, Nash, Jordan, Falcon Knight, Peerless, Studebaker, and others. In addition to a selected group of the foremost jobbers of automotive accessories throughout the United States, the Company also sells its various products to a large number of wholesale automobile distributors.

Properties The Company owns in fee two plants, located at North Chicago, Ill., and Decatur, Ill. The North Chicago plant, located on a 5-acre tract consists of factory and office buildings of modern design protected by automatic sprinkler equipment, having a total floor space of about 125,000 square feet. This plant is afforded excellent transportation facilities by the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern Railway, the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, and the Chicago, North Shore & Milwaukee Railway. The Decatur plant of the Company is located on a tract of 20 acres served by the Illinois Central, the Wabash and Pennsylvania railroads. This plant is a fully equipped modern brick and concrete factory and office building, with floor space of approximately 100,000 square feet.

73 Years' Proven Safety to Investors

Passing years continue to strengthen the unexcelled record of the House of Greenebaum—a record of prompt payment to investors of Bond principal and interest for nearly three-quarters of a century.

To attain such a record through many years and periods of business uncertainty has been no light task. It has been accomplished only by constant watchfulness and strict adherence to a firmly established policy of conservatism.

Many thousands of careful investors, everywhere, are daily gaining the benefits of investment in Greenebaum First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds, approved and recommended by the oldest Real Estate Bond House—Founded in 1855. All of the well-known advantages of these sound, time-proven securities are desirably combined in current Greenebaum offerings.

CONTINENTAL NATIONAL BANK & TRUST COMPANY OF CHICAGO

208 SOUTH LASALLE

DEARBORN-LAKE GARAGE

$1,000,000 First (Closed) Mortgage Leasehold 6½% Serial Gold Bonds

N. E. Corner Dearborn and Lake St., Chicago

Bonds mature July 3, 1931, and annually from Jan. 3, 1932 to Jan. 3, 1943. Denominations $1,000 and $500 bonds in all maturities; $100 bonds in last maturity only. Federal Income Tax, not in excess of 2%, payable for bondholders by mortgagee.

Bonds and coupons payable at the office of the Chicago Title & Trust Company and of H. O. Stone & Co.

Trustee: Chicago Title and Trust Company

Security: A direct first (closed) mortgage on the leasehold estate (fronting 30 feet 5½ inches on Dearborn St., and 160 feet 2 inches on Lake St.) and the ten story Dearborn-Lake Garage Building.

Valuation: Leasehold (appraised by Winston & Co.) $723,530.00
Building (upon completion) including architect's fees and carrying charges, as appraised by R. C. Wieboldt Co., General Contractors, 1,175,070.00

Total Valuation $1,898,600.00

On the basis of the above appraisals this bond issue is a 72.6% loan

EARNINGS: The property will be leased to the Dearborn-Lake Garage Corporation for a term of fifteen years from January 3, 1932, the lessee agreeing to pay all taxes, insurance, repairs, assessments and other expenses, except ground rent, providing a net rental income to the owner of $84,127.00.

The ability of the leasing corporation to pay the rental under the above mentioned lease is shown by the following estimate of the earning power of the Dearborn-Lake Garage. This estimate is based on an analysis of gross earnings, operating costs and profits of eleven garages of the same general type located in Chicago, New York, Newark, St. Louis, Detroit and Cleveland.

Gross yearly income $632,100
Operating expenses 118,100

Net income, before Federal Tax $514,000

The estimated net income is over 8 times the greatest annual interest charge

Location: Unexcelled for a garage. Two and a half blocks from Michigan Boulevard, less than a block from Wacker Drive, two blocks from Chicago's largest department store and close to the shopping and theatre district and the majority of downtown Chicago's largest buildings.

Building: Ten stories and basement, absolutely fireproof, faced with pressed brick and trimmed with terra cotta. Individual stalls for 710 automobiles, and a daily capacity for 1,970 cars. A great advance over any garage in Chicago.

Demand: A survey shows that Chicago has fewer downtown garages than many smaller cities. Boston, for example, with a population of 781,000 has 30 downtown garages while Chicago with a population of over 3,000,000 has only 17 downtown storage garages. Of the 180,846 passenger motor cars entering the Loop during a normal 12-hour day, only 1,700 cars can find accommodations in fairly modern structures.

Safekeeping: Independent corporate trustee. Title guaranteed by Chicago Title and Trust Co. Completion of building unconditionally guaranteed by H. O. Stone & Co. Management under the direct personal supervision of Mr. Glenn E. Holmes, the first Ford dealer in Chicago. Mr. Holmes has been in the automobile business for twenty-five years, ten years of this time at Wabash and Lake.

Price: Par and accrued interest to yield 6½%

In our opinion, we have never made a bond issue in which the earnings to meet principal and interest obligations were better assured. Make your reservation now by phoning Franklin 5600, or ask for illustrated Circular T-14.
